INDIA'S INDUSTRIAL OUTPUT GROWS 3.1%

India's industrial production grew 3.1% in September, according to official data on Friday. The IIP had grown 4.4 per cent in September 2021. Meanwhile, Moody's slashed India's GDP growth projection to 7% for 2022, saying that global slowdown and high domestic interest rates would dampen economic momentum. This is the second time in as many months that Moody's Investors Service has cut India's growth estimates for 2022. P13

PM: Bengaluru reflects India's startup spirit

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ Bengaluru

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Friday said that Bengaluru represents the startup spirit of India and has helped the country to stand apart in a different league in the world.

"In the entire world, India's identity is in startups, and strengthening the case Bengaluru has played a great role. Startup does not happen with a single company. It is a spirit to do something new, a spirit to think out of box and it is a confidence and there are many choices before the country," the PM said, addressing a huge rally after inaugurating the Terminal-2 at the Kempegowda International Airport and unveiling Nadaprabhu Kempegowda's 108-foot 'Statue of Prosperity' at the airport.

Earlier in the morning, he flagged off the Vande Bharat train to Chennai and Bharat Gaurav Kashi Yatra train to Kashi for pilgrims. He also paid floral tributes to the statues of saints Kanakadasa and Valmiki at Vidhana Soudha and the portrait of Onake Obavva, a mid-fifteenth century woman warrior, at the rally near KIA.

Modi showered praise on Bengaluru and Karnataka for getting investments worth Rs 4 lakh crore while the world was struggling through the Covid-19 pandemic, to stand at number 1 position in India in attracting FDI. He attributed that to the "double engine" government — a term used to describe the same party in power at the Centre and the state.

Nalini, 5 other Rajiv case convicts freed

SC bench invokes special powers for premature release, goes by its May 17 verdict in the A G Perarivalan case

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

ALL six convicts serving life sentence for more than three decades in the Rajiv Gandhi assassination case are all set to walk free as the Supreme Court on Friday went by its May 17 verdict directing the premature release of another lifer in the case, Perarivalan, by a different bench.

The six convicts are S Nalini, Sriharan, Suthenthiraraja a.k.a Santhan, R P Ravichandran, Jayakumar, and Robert Payas. Sriharan, Santhan, Robert and Jayakumar are Sri Lankan nationals.

The court found that "the factors which weighed with this court while directing the release of A G Perarivalan are equally applicable to all the applicants. The appellants are therefore directed to be released if not required in any other case," a bench of justices B R Gavai and B V Nagarathna said.

Justice Gavai was part of the bench that let off Perarivalan invoking its special powers under Article 142 of the Constitution.

From commuting sentences of Nalini, Sriharan, Santhan and Perarivalan into life and eventually granting release to all convicts, the court invoked its special powers as the executive used dilatory tactics to put off taking its call on requests for relief.

The bench took note of the Tamil Nadu Cabinet's recommendation of premature release to the Governor on September 9, 2018 which was not acted upon. The Governor sat on it for over 2.5 years before forwarding it to the President on January 27, 2021, who, too, did not take the call.

The court also gave weightage to the conduct and education qualifications the convicts acquired while in jail. Nalini's gender was her dditional weightage (see box).

"Nalini has been behind bars for over three decades and her conduct has also been satisfactory. She has a PG diploma in Computer Application," the court said. P9

Train and terminal to take B'luru to next level

PM flags off South India's first Vande Bharat Express; Swanky Terminal-2 of Kempegowda International Airport inaugurated

NAMRATA SINDWANI @ Bengaluru

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi flagged off South India's first Vande Bharat Express and Bharat Gaurav Kashi Darshan trains at Krantiveera Sangolli Rayanna (KSR) railway station in Bengaluru on Friday.

Amid a slight drizzle with partly cloudy skies and his fans chanting 'Modi..Modi' on Platform 6, the Prime Minister arrived at platform 7 along with Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai. Before flagging off, he entered Vande Bharat Express and interacted with passengers and loco pilots. He entered the train engine and from there waved at the crowd on the other platform.

He first flagged off Vande Bharat at 10.05 am from Platform 7 and Bharat Gaurav Kashi Darshan train at 10.25 am from platform 8.

He later tweeted, "The Chennai-Mysuru Vande Bharat Express will boost connectivity as well as commercial activities. It will also enhance the 'ease of living.' Glad to have flagged off this train from Bengaluru."

This is the fifth Vande Bharat Express in the country. Passengers travelling in the train were elated with the advanced technology and compared it with trains in other countries. They appreciated the smart technology, touch on/off light buttons, for instance, and said it is a great advancement as compared to older trains.

Modi complimented Karnataka for being the first state to take up the Bharat Gaurav Kashi Yatra train, bringing Kashi closer to Karnataka. "Pilgrims and tourists will be able to visit Kashi, Ayodhya and Prayagraj with ease," the PM tweeted. The train will offer an eight-day tour package at discounted rates for pilgrims.

Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot and Union ministers Ashwini Vaishnav and Pralhad Joshi were present.

AIRPORT'S T2 REAFFIRMS BENGALURU'S GARDEN CITY TAG

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Friday inaugurated the glitzy Terminal-2 of the Kempegowda International Airport (KIA) in Bengaluru, an eco-friendly facility constructed at an estimated Rs 5,000 crore largely using bamboo.

Nicknamed 'Terminal in a Garden', the new facility will cater to 2.5 crore passengers annually, KIA executives said. "T2 is an architectural wonder, which is a first-of-its-kind 'Terminal in a Garden'. It will have lush greenery within and outside, and will be a visual delight like no other in the world. The passengers' experience is designed to be a walk in the garden, while traveling through the new terminal," another KIA representative said. A big draw of Terminal-2 will be its 'hanging garden'.

A statement issued by the Prime Minister's Office said the Terminal-2 is designed as a tribute to the Garden City of Bengaluru and the passenger experience is meant to be a "walk in the garden".

"Passengers will travel through over 10,000 sq metres of green walls, hanging gardens and outdoor gardens. The airport has already established a benchmark in sustainability with 100 per cent usage of renewable energy," the statement said.

The facility has been created with sustainability principles woven into the design. Based on sustainability initiatives, T2 will be the largest terminal in the world to be pre-certified platinum rating by US GBC (green building council) prior to commencing operations, the statement read. "The theme of 'Naurasa' unites all the commissioned artworks for Terminal-2. The artworks reflect the heritage and culture of Karnataka, as well as the broader Indian ethos," it added. Agencies

Train a hit, but reaching stn issue for many

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

AFTER boarding a bus, walking some distance, using the Metro, two autos and scaling the compound wall of Cantonment railway station, MTech student BM Manoj managed to board the inaugural Vande Bharat train with his pair of jeans torn. Yet, he and his two friends were overjoyed that they made it to the maiden train which departed at 10.31 am to Chennai from Bengaluru.

Over 300 passengers boarded at many stations in Bengaluru. Manoj said, "I reached KSR Bengaluru station at 9 am. I was told that on account of the PM's visit, I can board the train at Cantonment. My friends were waiting for me and I hired an auto and the driver demanded Rs 200. At KR Circle, he said it was not possible to go further as roads were blocked. We walked through Cubbon Park. We took the Metro at Vidhana Soudha to Cubbon Park. Again we had to board an auto to Cantonment station and paid Rs 100. As we neared the station, we could see the train on Platform No. 2. We scaled the 5 ft wall and rushed. All doors were shut, but were reopened after we requested officials," he said.

They were a part of an 11-member group, said Ganesh TK, a techie. "All of us were keen on the Vande Bharat train. We left from Cubbonpet to KSR in four autos. As the station was blocked, we hired four autos and reached Cantonment station."

PM shakes hands with loco pilots

Two highly experienced loco-pilots, R Surendran and V Ramachandran, hailing from Karnataka, steered the first Vande Bharat Express. Before flagging off the train, Prime Minister Narendra Modi stepped into the cabin and spoke to both. "I can say it is the greatest day in my life. We got up when the PM entered and he asked us to sit down saying you are going to steer the train and must not stand. He asked us to introduce ourselves and shook hands with us," Surendran said.

Fare chart

The 16-coach train is fully air-conditioned. The fare from Chennai to Mysuru is Rs 1,200 for the chair car ticket (14 coaches) and Rs 2,295 in two executive coaches. In the reverse direction, the fare will be Rs 1,365 from Mysuru to Chennai for chair car and Rs 2,485 for executive coach. KSR to Mysuru will be Rs 515 (CC) and Rs 985 (EC). In the reverse direction from Mysuru to KSR it will be Rs 720 (CC) and Rs 1,215 (EC).

Stops at all stations on inaugural run

This being the inaugural train, it stopped at every minor station enroute and finally reached Chennai Central at 7.05 pm, after 8 hrs and 45 minutes. Commercial operations will start on Saturday (Nov 12) and the train with 1,128 seats is fully booked. It will head from Mysuru to Puratchi Thalaivar Dr MGR Chennai Central with stoppage only at KSR Bengaluru and Katpadi. It is faster than Shatabdi by just 20 minutes as tracks here do not permit the speed of 160 kmph for which it has been certified, said a top official.

UNIQUE FEATURES

- Equipped with Kavach (anti-collision system). But the tracks with which it has to be integrated still do not have the system.
- Principal Chief Mechanical Engineer, SWR, Subbu Rao, said that power to run the train is provided in six coaches, while it is two in traditional trains. A total of 11,840 Kw of power is available to power the trains.
- No alarm pulling system. Instead a passenger can speak to the loco pilot or train manager in an emergency
- It will have train hostesses. Hot food is supplied as there are four hot cases and two bottle cooler cases in each coach.

Citizens use Modi visit to highlight civic woes

DONNA EVA @ Bengaluru

WHILE Opposition leaders and other politicians took to Twitter to analyse and criticise Prime Minister Narendra Modi's visit, citizens used social media to appeal to the PM for better infrastructure in the city.

Pictures of potholed roads, bad traffic, flooding and other issues that Bengaluru has faced in the last one year came to the fore once again during Modi's second visit to the city since June. "Dear Modiji, the glory of Bangalore is spoiled by poor performance of BBMP and politicians. Every ward in Bangalore has one or the other issue related to infrastructure or basic amenities. We are fed up with never ending traffic woes and civic issues. Your intervention needed," one Twitter user said.

Other users also made a point to bring to attention some more recent issues, including the case of school students having to miss classes due to a two-hour wait in traffic to get to school. "#NammaBengaluru welcomes @narendramodi ji to unveil the #StatueofProsperity. Pls take time to listen to these kids who often get stuck at infamous #PananthurRUB ur direction may resolve issue. plz act," tweeted out @balagerecconnect, the citizens group for Balagere. The children had taken out a candlelight vigil and appealed for better traffic management. "Modi Ji.. please do visit this stretch of #bangalore We have here the best schools of India but worst roads and basic infrastructure. Kids are spending 3 hours daily stuck in traffic jams," one of the users appealed.

"The only advantage of Modi coming to Bangalore all the roads around KSR railway station fixed within a week which was overdue since years!" one user mentioned.

Majestic bus stand halts service for 2 hrs, leaves passengers in lurch

NAMRATA SINDWANI @ Bengaluru

THE Kempegowda Bus Station, opposite the Krantivira Sangolli Railway (KRS) Railway Station at Majestic in Bengaluru, witnessed suspension of bus services for 2-3 hours, inconveniencing passengers.

The services were suspended from 10 am to 12 pm, in lieu of PM Narendra Modi's visit to the KRS station to flag off the Vande Bharat Express and Bharat Gaurav Kashi Darshan trains from there.

The two-hour suspension delayed services for the remainder of the day, and passengers were seen waiting at the bus station.

A passenger travelling to Hassan said she was not aware of the suspension and had already waited for two hours and did not know for much more she would have to wait.

However, a KSRTC official claimed that the bus services were only disrupted for under an hour, and post the PM's programmes, they had returned to normal. Hence, it did not cause much inconvenience to citizens, he added.

Another passenger, Vaibhav, who was travelling to Hindupur in Andhra Pradesh, also complained about waiting for too long.

"I have been waiting for over two hours and have been told the bus will arrive in some time but don't know when the bus will come," he said.

A KSRTC officer at the Majestic bus stand said that only for a brief period of an hour, bus services for approximately 15 buses were affected, but everything got back to normal soon after the PM's visit.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

12th November : In one of my old books I read that today's sparky planetary pattern forecasts the following scenario: 'political activity, debates, meetings and sometimes much excitement, but hindrances and complicated situations develop, and the Government is not fortunate. There will be strange cases in the law courts.' Don't say I didn't warn you!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Something someone says or does should boost your ego, not that it needs boosting, of course! However, it will be nice to receive a little praise for a change, after all the criticism you normally get. Aside from that, it's a busy day, and one for solidly worthwhile activities.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Close partners may have been in a difficult mood, but it does take two to start an argument, doesn't it? A certain person seems to be terribly volatile and you may do best to put your own qualms and complaints to one side and lend a sympathetic ear.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
You have been contemplating drastic answers to relatively minor questions, buoyed up by Mars' energising influence. Yet according to all the current indications you'll still have problems putting your plans into practice. Just a little more thought - and effort - could do it.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
It so happens that your relations with friends are ruled by Taurus, and this explains why loyalty comes at the top of your list of priorities. If you can extol the virtues of punctuality and fidelity to others, please do so. You never know - you might learn something in the process.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Watch out for emotional, possibly hysterical, people at work. Somebody seems to think that they have the right to tell everybody else what to do. For this reason, your home may act as a sort of bolt-hole. You may even need to lick your emotional wounds.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
You are no doubt up against big communication difficulties, but why others should misunderstand you is another matter. Are they determined to pick up the wrong end of the stick? Or are you failing to make yourself clear? Perhaps it's a mixture of the two!

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Averaged out over the years, it seems that this is normally a fairly profitable time of year. However, with every opportunity comes a risk and your timing must be spot on. Even if your resources are limited, you may duck and dive and make a little extra cash.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You have heard enough empty promises to be especially impressed by smooth-talking partners. So, if you hear people spouting nonsense today, that's all the more reason for you to lay down the law. The trouble is, they might not realise they're not making sense!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
There are a great many useful ways to apply your gifts. Even if someone close to you is still bad-tempered or irritable, you can dodge the issues by getting on with a favourite activity or hobby. The basic principle is that a little of what you fancy does you good.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Passions are running high, and for some of you the storm clouds are gathering. However, with a conscious act of will, you may be able to direct such powerful energies towards cultural and pleasurable pursuits, not to mention dramatic and theatrical outbursts.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
You may feel obliged to go on the defensive, but if you take a placatory approach then the pressure should start to ease. One problem may be that you fail to give other people due recognition for their achievements, and that they end up feeling resentful. Praise partners when they deserve it!

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You often tend to worry about tackling new situations, but the stars are so favourably disposed that most of your concerns should be completely reassured. Lunar alignments are ideal for that favourite past time - country jaunts; there's nothing that inspires your soul as much as the beauties of nature.

MURUGHA SEER DENIES SEXUAL ABUSE CHARGES

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Chitradurga

MURUGHA Mutt pontiff Dr Shivamurthy Murugha Sharanaru, the prime accused in a Pocso case, has denied allegations against him that he sexually abused girls or gave them fruits and chocolates laced with drugs. In his voluntary statement to the police, which has been included in a chargesheet that is available with TNIE, he has also denied that he was in the habit of consuming liquor.

Denying the allegations that the girls came to his room through the backdoor, the seer said no one was allowed from the backdoor. The seer has said he gave fruits, dry fruits and chocolates only to those children who were malnourished. He also denied charges that he was helped by others while having a bath. The pontiff also told the police that the warden, Rashmi, was appointed four years ago and he did not know what her timings were at the mutt.

The police investigation reveals that another minor girl at Akkamahadevi hostel of the mutt also suffered sexual abuse. The victim, who is now married and whose statement is recorded in the partial chargesheet filed against the seer and two others, has shared her ordeal."After everyone went to sleep, the warden used to send us into the pontiff's room from the backdoor where he gave me fruits and touched me inappropriately. By 4.30 am, the pontiff used to set an alarm and I was sent back to the hostel through the same door" the victim has been quoted as saying in the 'B' chargesheet. Some "helpers" of the pontiff too have told the police that the seer used to get minor girls into his room. But, as they feared losing their jobs, they kept quiet. As per another statement, the hostel warden used to go to the pontiff's bedroom with girl students and stayed there for hours, while others were not allowed.

A report submitted by the Forensic Science Laboratory, which has been included in the chargesheet, reveals that no trace of alcohol or any drug was found in the blood and urine samples collected from the accused. The chargesheet states that the residues of volatile poisons including ethyl alcohol, narcotics, barbiturates, benzodiazepine group of drugs and alkaloids were not detected in the samples.

The police said that the victim, a resident of Chamarajanagar alleged in the complaint that he had contacted a woman who introduced herself as Chandini on social media and she had forced him to make a video call. During the conversation, he was asked to be undress and it was video recorded. Two days later a man called the victim claiming himself as an IPS officer to extort Rs 15 lakh, the police said.

As the accused started demanding more money, the victim approached Cyber Crime police and filed a case. The police have launched a manhunt for the accused. Chandini had made video calls more than five times and she had not shown her face to the victim while talking. The police have recovered the bank account details of the accused.

Four days ago, Suddaguntepalya police had arrested a 23-year-old woman on the charges of honey trapping. She along with four had extorted money, a car, and other valuables after assaulting a milk booth owner.

A 54-year-old physical education teacher of a government school in Hebbal has been accused of sexually harassing 15 high school girl students and has been arrested under the provisions of the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (Pocso) Act. The police are yet to record the statement of the victims.

The accused has been identified as Anjanappa. The police said he was arrested on Wednesday following a complaint filed by the school principal, who approached the police after conducting an enquiry into the allegations following complaints by parents.

"The accused was allegedly kissing and touching the girls inappropriately during the physical education classes from the last few months. The girls informed their parents who in turn approached the principal. An internal enquiry was conducted by the principal and it was found that the accused had sexually harassed 15 students. Immediately, the principal lodged a police complaint," the police said. The Hebbal police, who registered an FIR against Anjanappa under the Pocso Act based on the complaint, arrested the accused. 60-year-old mechanic hacked to death

BENGALURU: A 60-year-old mechanic was hacked to death by a youth over a trivial issue. The incident took place in HSR Layout police station limits and the police have arrested the accused. The deceased Ramakrishna G, was a resident of Roopena Agrahara. The police have arrested his neighbour Manju (26) for the murder. The police said the incident took place on Wednesday soon after Ramakrishna left home to go to work. Manju, who followed him, hacked him to death with a machete. Investigations revealed that Ramakrishna and Manju had installed the Ganesha pandal together in August. The residents of the locality were planning to form a residential association and a meeting regarding the same was held on November 6. "Manju was not invited to the meeting and he thought that Ramakrishna had intentionally done it. However, Ramakrishna himself had not attended the meeting but there was a heated argument between them over the same. PM: DEVELOP BENGALURU CITY AS ENVISIONED BY KEMPEGOWDA

Modi says the ruler was a visionary and always put welfare of people above everything else

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Friday unveiled the 108-foot-tall statue of Bengaluru's founder Nadaprabhu Kempegowda at the city's international airport.

The development of Bengaluru should be on the lines envisioned by Kempegowda, who gave an impetus to the development of commerce and trade besides keeping the cultural spirit of the city alive, Modi said, addressing a public rally after unveiling the "Statue of Prosperity" and inaugurating terminal 2 of the Kempegowda International Airport.

Modi paid floral tributes and offered holy water to the statue. He also planted a sapling. The statue is built to commemorate the contribution of Nadaprabhu Kempegowda, the founder of the city, towards the growth of Bengaluru. Conceptualised and sculpted by Ram V Sutar, 98 tonnes of bronze and 120 tonnes of steel have gone into making the statue.

The people of Bengaluru are still getting the benefit of Kempegowda's vision, the prime minister said. "Even though businesses may have transformed today, pete (an area in Bengaluru) remains the commercial lifeline of Bengaluru," Modi said.

"The role of Sri Nadaprabhu Kempegowda in the making of Bengaluru is unparalleled. He is remembered as a visionary who always put the welfare of people above everything else. Honoured to inaugurate the 'Statue of Prosperity' in Bengaluru," the PM tweeted.

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said the State Government is determined to develop Karnataka on the ideology of Kempegowda. He said Bengaluru has grown into an international city thanks to the vision of Kempegowda, who ensured planned development by building many tanks and opening markets for every profession. Bommai said Modi has built a strong nation and taken India to new heights in development under the slogan of 'Atmanirbhar Bharat'. At a time when the world is facing an economic crisis, India's economy is becoming stronger, he said.

"The statue has gone into the World Book of Records for being the tallest bronze statue in the world. This will become an important landmark in the city in the coming days. It will become synonymous with the prosperous growth of the city," said Dr CN Ashwath Narayan, Higher Education Minister and vice-chairperson of the Kempegowda Heritage Area Development Authority.

Modi hails Kanaka Dasa

Prime Minister Narendra Modi, paying floral tributes to saint Kanaka Dasa at Vidhana Soudha on Friday morning, hailed the saint as a spiritual icon who used the Bhakti Marga to reach out to Lord Krishna, besides trying to reform a society divided on caste lines. "The saint, who gave a message 'kula kula kulavendu hodedadiri' (don't fight over caste), also established the significance of finger millet through his work 'Ramadhanya Charita', which was dedicated to 'ragi' that is liked by the people here," he remarked. Kuruba community pontiff Niranjanananandapuri Swamiji honoured Modi with a traditional black woolen blanket the community is synonymous with as they were shepherds originally.

PM honours icons, tries to woo different communities

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi's visit to Bengaluru on Friday, though underscored the development initiatives of the double engine governments, also has a political element as it came just months ahead of the 2023 Karnataka Assembly elections. As planned, Modi made efforts to impress different communities, Vokkaligas, Kurubas, ST Nayakas and Dalits, as he unveiled the Kempegowda statue, garlanded the statues of Kanaka Dasa and Valmiki and paid floral tributes to Onake Obavva, as these historical icons represent respective communities.

Some sections of these communities could be swayed by these gestures during the polls. But already, leaders like former prime minister HD Deve Gowda, Siddaramaiah, B Sriramulu and Mallikarjuna Kharge have been icons of these communities, political pundits said.

After Modi unveiled the 108-foot statue of Nadaprabhu Kempegowda at the airport, Adi Chunchanagiri Mutt head Nirmalananda Swamiji hailed Modi as 'vishwa nayaka', whose advice is sought by the world. Speaking at the public rally after the event, the prominent Vokkaliga religious head said, "Like Kempegowda, who had 'karmajnana', Modi too showed his leadership skills as he led the country from the front when the country's economy was in a shambles during Covid. Kempegowda united people for the progress of Bengaluru, while Modi understood the importance of skilling, upskilling and reskilling of human resources," he said.

"Kempegowda was a righteous man who gave as much importance to spirituality as to the culture of the land," he said, attributing the same characteristics to Modi. He said, "Even as development works elsewhere came to a standstill because of Covid, the progress on the construction of the statue continued. I thank all for the unveiling of the statue, which is a symbol of prosperity."

Higher Education Minister Dr CN Ashwath Narayan had got a special headgear made for Modi which was like the one that adorned the head of Kempegowda. Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai placed the peta on Modi's head. But Nirmalanandanatha Swamiji, who noticed that it was not worn properly, fixed it head with the precision Kempegowda used to wear and told the Prime Minister about its significance.

Vokkaligas dishonoured: Community leaders

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

WHILE Prime Minister Narendra Modi, who inaugurated the statue of Kempe Gowda near the Kempegowda International Airport, tweeted on Friday that he was 'honoured to inaugurate the statue of prosperity', there were many who complained that the Vokkaliga community, to which the Bengaluru founder belonged, had been done a great 'dishonour.'

Members of the community, taking to social media, said the community leader and former prime minister HD Deve Gowda was dishonoured as he was not extended an official invitation to the event. During the foundation laying ceremony on June 27, 2020, Gowda was invited and he participated in the programme.

Leaders from JDS, headed by Gowda, said Gowda is the only prime minister from Karnataka and a person of his stature not being invited caused pain to the Vokkaliga community.

While the BJP on Friday evening released a letter saying that Gowda was invited, JDS senior leader HD Kumaraswamy said, "There is a protocol to invite someone of the stature of a former PM."

JDS leaders also said if the invitation had been sent, why was no seat marked in his name. Kumaraswamy said, "Why was Gowda, a sitting Rajya Sabha member, not there? It is a grave dishonour."

He asked, "Why was SM Krishna, who is now with BJP, not on stage? Will they call a great leader to make him stand in a corner? Also, why was Nisarga Narayanswamy, the area MLA, not on the dais."

BJP MLC AH Vishwanath criticised the government for turning it into a party event. The government should have invited Deve Gowda, Kumaraswamy, Opposition leader Siddaramaiah and others, he said.

Added to this, Adi Chunchangiri Mutt Swamiji Nirmalananda was to stand besides Modi, but instead Infosys Foundation Chairperson Sudha Murthy was next to him. Also, Revenue Minister R Ashoka was seen disrespectfully placing his hands on Swamiji's shoulders and the photograph went viral on social media. Kumaraswamy said, "It is disrespectful to lay hands on the pontiff's shoulders."

'Airports creating new playing field for expansion of businesses'

"FOUR hundred Fortune 500 companies operating from Karnataka, and the list is growing. This became possible because of the double engine governments. Karnataka is reaping the benefits of the trust and aspirations that the entire world has shown towards India," he said.

"The investments are not limited to the IT sector, but range from biotechnology to defence, as Karnataka has a 25% share in the aircraft and spacecraft industry of India. About 70% of aircraft and helicopters that are made for India's defence are manufactured here," he pointed out.

Besides improving the physical infrastructure, Karnataka has also been progressing in developing the social infrastructure as over 30 lakh households in the rural areas are being facilitated with piped water under Jal Jeevan Mission, over eight lakh are being given pucca houses and four lakh people got free treatment under Ayushman Bharat scheme, he said.

"There were about 70 airports in the country before 2014, but today it has doubled to more than 140. Airports are creating a new playing field for the expansion of businesses besides creating new opportunities for the youth of the nation," Modi remarked, adding that India is one of the fastest-growing markets in the world in air travel as the number of passengers travelling by air is growing rapidly.

The Terminal 2 will help BIA become the second biggest airport in India and will add new facilities for passengers and services to boost connectivity between the cities, he said.

Confident PM will reply to Cong charges: Shivakumar

ENS @ Bengaluru

A day after writing a letter to Prime Minister Narendra Modi highlighting what it called rampant corruption under the BJP-led State Government, KPCC president DK Shivakumar on Friday said that he was confident of a reply from the former.

"In a democratic set up, a PM will reply to the letter written by the Opposition. I am confident that Narendra Modi too is no exception and he too will reply," Shivakumar said. Hitting out at the BJP, the Kanakapura MLA alleged that a contractor has sought permission for euthanasia over alleged demands for commission. Shivakumar urged Modi to send a message to his partymen not to cover up corruption the same way potholes are filled in Bengaluru ahead of his visit.

On allegations that Bengaluru roads are asphalted only for the PM's visit, Shivakumar said, "The roads are for the journey of their leaders and not for the benefit of the citizens."

When asked about a minister's statement that the statue could have been installed by the Airports Authority of India as Shivakumar had suggested earlier, he said, "The day I went there, I said they could have spent their own money. There was no need for the State Government to build the statue."

When asked about the government spending Rs 48 crore on Friday's event, he said, "Everyone knows that money is being spent to glorify one person and one party. People have decided to get rid of them."

A day after BJP dropped 38 sitting MLAs in its first list announced for the next month's Gujarat Assembly elections, several MLAs in Karnataka are now worried ahead of the 2023 polls in the state.

In the 224-member Karnataka Assembly, BJP has 117 MLAs (excluding former minister Umesh Katti who passed away recently and Speaker Vishveshwara Hegde Kageri, who won on a BJP ticket). Independent MLA N Mahesh, who was earlier with BSP, supports the saffron party.

A senior BJP leader told The New Indian Express that though BJP has been in power for the last three years, many seniors were denied a place in the cabinet as the party had to accommodate turncoats who helped BS Yediyurappa form the government. "Many legislators, who have won 3-4 times, weren't made ministers. If the party decides not to give them tickets in 2023, it will be unfair," he added.

BJP sources said the party is conducting a survey at the constituency level to hunt for winnable candidates.

"Like Gujarat, we cannot drop old faces. Karnataka is different and we need seniors to win elections. These leaders associate themselves with major communities and dropping them will impact our prospects in the polls," a BJP source added.

Meanwhile, a few leaders and those associated with the party at the grassroots level are hoping that Karnataka BJP will follow the Gujarat mode, and give a chance to fresh faces.

Senior BJP leader and Rajya Sabha member Lahar Singh Siroya had recently said senior leaders should pave the way for youngsters to contest the 2023 polls.

Fadnavis accuses Satish of insulting Maratha icon Sambhaji Maharaj

EXPRES NEWS SERVICE @ Belagavi

DAYS after KPCC working president Satish Jarkiholi withdrew his statement on the origin of the word Hindu after coming under fire from various quarters, he courted another controversy on Friday.

His statement at the same programme at Nipani that Sambhaji Maharaj was handed over to the British instead of Mughal ruler Aurangzeb has been criticised widely on social media and some sections of media.

Maharashtra Deputy CM Devendra Fadnavis tweeted a video of Satish's speech referring to the arrest and killing of Sambhaji Maharaj. "Mr @RahulGandhi, do you agree with this nonsensical, misleading, insulting lie spewed out by your party's MLA about the great Chatrapati Sambhaji Maharaj? Is this your Congress party's official statement? Maharashtra will not tolerate this!," read the tweet.

In the video posted, Satish said Sambhaji Maharaj was caught by the British and killed for punishing those who tried to poison Chatrapati Shivaji Maharaj.

Satish has clarified on the fresh controversy, saying that attempts are being made to needlessly target him without any logical reason. "I was trying to recall historical facts about who handed over Sambhaji Maharaj to Aurangzeb. But inadvertently, I said it was the British instead of Aurangzeb," he said. He said his objective was to inform the people about who cheated Chatrapati Shivaji Maharaj and who killed Sambhaji Maharaj. "Attempts are being made to defame and target me on this issue in some sections of media and social networking sites to politicise the issue," he said.

ZP-TP polls: Apex court asks SEC to go back to HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE State Election Commission (SEC) efforts of to seek relief from the Supreme Court on holding zilla and taluk panchayat elections, as directed by the Karnataka High Court, came to a naught as the division bench of the apex court, headed by Justice Anirudh Bose, directed SEC to go back to the HC.

The SC did not entertain the SEC appeal, challenging the high court order on holding the local body elections, which were scheduled for May last year. The apex court, which heard the petition on Friday, said it saw no reason to intervene when the petition is pending before the HC.

The high court had given 12 weeks to the state government to complete the delimitation and reservation of constituencies and the time limit is expiring in the next few days. and asked the SEC to go back to the HC.

The SEC was ready to hold the elections in May last year when the terms of ZP and TPs expired. It had carried out the delimitation exercise and identified seats for reservation. By the time the dates were announced, the state government withdrew the powers of delimitation and reservation from SEC and set up a separate delimitation commission. SEC had then approached the high court, challenging the government's move.

THE central government is not just stopping at delivering the basic amenities, but also connecting villages using modern science and technologies as 6 lakh km of optic fibre cables have been laid to connect around two lakh gram panchayats, said Prime Minister Narendra Modi at the 36th convocation ceremony at the Gandhigram Rural Institute's (GRI) on Friday.

Modi awarded honorary doctorate degrees to music maestro Ilaiyaraaja and Mrudangam exponent Umayalpuram K Sivaraman in the presence of Tamil Nadu Chief Minister MK Stalin and Governor RN Ravi.

Coming to Gandhigram, which was inaugurated by Mahatma Gandhi, he said that one can see the spirit of Gandhi's ideals and his ideas of rural development in the institution, which have become relevant today for ceasing conflicts or tackling climate crises.

Recalling how Mahatma saw khadi as a tool of self-reliance in villages, he said that Tamil Nadu was a key centre of the Swadeshi movement, and will once again play an important role in the making of Aatmanirbhar Bharat.

Complete rural sanitation coverage, tap water to over six crore homes, 2.5 crore electricity connections, and increased rural connectivity through roads, the government is taking development to the people's doorstep, and mitigating the inequality between urban and rural areas, he said.

EPS, OPS GREET PM AT MADURAI AIRPORT

Madurai : PM Narandra Modi was accorded a warm welcome by leaders of various political parties when he landed at the Madurai airport on Friday afternoon to attend Gandhigram Rural Institute's 36th convocation ceremony. AIADMK leaders Edappadi K Palaniswami and O Panneerselvam seperately met Modi, who then left for the event by a chopper. Owing to poor climate, the prime minister returned to Madurai by road.

"Sustainable agriculture is crucial for the future of rural areas. Our organic farming scheme is doing wonders, especially in the northeast," Modi pointed out.

"Tamil Nadu has always been the home of national consciousness," he said and recalled when Swami Vivekananda was accorded a hero's welcome on his return from the west. Mentioning the name of the first Chief of Defence Staff late General Bipin Rawat, evinced chants of 'Veera Vanakkam'.

Recalling the sacrifices of Rani Velu Nachiyar, the PM said, "Today, I am in the region which has seen Nari Shakti."

Stalin, while addressing the gathering, said, "Education is the only asset that can never be snatched by anyone under any situation. Hence, I appeal to the Union government to support and encourage such efforts of state government by bringing back education under the State List. When the Constitution was adopted, education was originally placed under the State List, and was then moved to the Concurrent List, during the Emergency," he said.

For fifth time, 'insulted' KCR not to receive PM

Cong blasts KCR over Abul Kalam's birth anniversary

Hyderabad: Congress leader and former minister Mohammed Ali Shabbir has criticised the State government for not celebrating freedom fighter Moulana Abul Kalam Azad's birth anniversary, which was observed across the country on Friday. "It has been proved once again that Chief Minister K Chandrasekhar Rao has no respect for freedom fighters and national leaders, especially if they belong to the Muslim community. It is shameful that TRS government did not celebrate the 134th birth anniversary of Moulana Azad officially, though it is celebrated as the National Education Day. KCR did not even issue a press release paying homage to Moulana Azad," Shabbir Ali said in a media statement. "Moulana Azad wanted every Indian to get modern education. He emphasised on the importance of adult education and literacy. ENS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Hyderabad

FOR the fifth consecutive time, Telangana Chief Minister K Chandrasekhar Rao will not be receiving Prime Minister Narendra Modi when he arrives in Telangana on Saturday to inaugurate the Ramagundam Fertilisers and Chemicals Limited (RFCL).

"There is no invitation from the Prime Minister's Office (PMO) to the Chief Minister's Office (CMO). Normally, the PMO will invite the chief minister to be present as a guest at an official programme. However, the Ministry of Fertilisers and Chemicals asked the chief minister to participate in the Ramagundam programme and as such, it is not an invitation. The chief minister was insulted thrice by the PMO by not extending an invitation," Government Whip Balka Suman alleged.

Modi, after landing at Begumpet airport, will address a crowd mobilised by the BJP and later proceed to Ramagundam to inaugurate the reopened RFCL. He will also dedicate to the nation the 5.10-km-long Bhadrachalam Road - Sathupalli new railway line.

However, the CM will neither receive Modi at the Begumpet airport nor attend the official programme at RFCL. It may be mentioned here that after he differed with the policies of the Narendra Modi government, Rao has been avoiding receiving the PM during his visits to the State.

Almost two years to the day -- November 2020 to be precise -- there was no invitation extended to Rao when Modi visited Bharat Biotech. The CM skipped meeting the PM when Modi arrived in Hyderabad to participate in the unveiling of the Statue of Equality at Chinna Jeeyar Ashramam and later the same day, attended the 50th anniversary of ICRISAT.

TRS leaders claimed that there was no invite to the CM. They also alleged that some BJP leaders impressed upon the organisers of Statue of Equality not to invite Rao. The CM did not receive Modi when he participated in a programme at ISB in May, 2022. Addressing BJP workers at Begumpet airport in May this year, Modi launched a scathing attack on Rao and the TRS.

Stalin hails SC order, leaders slam Guvs

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

ALL political parties in Tamil Nadu, except for Congress and TMC, welcomed the release of six more convicts on Friday in the Rajiv Gandhi assassination case.

The parties, which hailed the verdict, had slammed governor RN Ravi and his predecessor Banwarilal Purohit for delaying to approve the state cabinet's decision to release the convicts.

Tamil Nadu Chief Minister MK Stalin said, "This verdict has come as a historical upholding of democratic principles. The verdict also shows that the governors should not put the decision of a popular government in the backburner."

The verdict also shows that the governors should not put the decision of a popular government in the backburner

MK Stalin, Chief Minister, Tamil Nadu

In 2000, the former CM commuted Nalini's the punishment from a death sentence to life sentence. "This verdict is a victory for all those who have been fighting for human rights and humanism," he added.

AIADMK organising secretary D Jayakumar, enumerated the steps taken by former CMs J Jayalalitha and Edappadi K Palaniswami, and said that the SC verdict is a victory for the relentless legal measures taken by the previous AIADMK governments.

AIADMK leader O Panneerselvam also welcomed the verdict.

However, TNCC president KS Alagiri expressed anguish over the verdict, "It is a solace that the SC did not say the convicts are innocent. So, they will continue to live as accused in the Rajiv Gandhi assassination case. In a way, it is also a punishment," Alagiri said while TMC president GK Vasan expressed his displeasure.

CPM State secretary K Balakrishnan alleged that the governor and the central government had procrastinated on taking a decision on the recommendations of the cabinet to release these convicts.

"The SC has taught a befitting lesson to the governor as well as the Centre," he added.

Recalling the long-drawn efforts to release these convicts, MDMK general secretary Vaiko alleged that even after the apex court had said that the state government could release these convicts, the governor had junked the state government's request on the matter.

VCK president Thol Thirumavalavan said the SC verdict has demonstrated that governors should aid and abide by the cabinet decisions. DK president K Veeramani, Naam Tamilar Katchi leader Seeman, AMMK general secretary TTV Dhinakaran, VK Sasikala and leaders of other parties have also welcomed the verdict.

Foetus to be preserved for DNA testing

THE court also made it clear that the termination of pregnancy is subject to further examination by the doctor who will carry out the procedure. If the doctor opines that the termination may cause harm or injury to the victim's life, he has to take a final call on performing the procedure, the court added.

The court said the foetus should be preserved by the hospital for DNA testing if the doctor says so. The hospital should send the tissue sample of the foetus for DNA testing to the Central Forensic Testing Laboratory in Bengaluru or Hyderabad, the court ordered.

Further, the court directed the local police inspector to make necessary transport arrangements for shifting the petitioner and her immediate family members or attendants to the hospital for treatment from their residence and drop them back after the treatment.

If the doctor suggests any follow-up treatment, the local police inspector should make the arrangements as and when required and the state will have to bear the cost, the court said.

Drug stuffed in doll in courier, two peddlers arrested

PRAVEEN KUMAR @ Bengaluru

WHILE scanning a parcel as part of their routine check, a reputed domestic courier agency found a doll stuffed with some suspicious looking tablets. The staff immediately brought it to the notice of the jurisdictional police, who swung into action and visited the courier office located at Pattandur Agrahara in Whitefield.

The police had launched a probe which led to the arrest of two inter-state drug peddlers from Kerala.

MDMA tablets worth around Rs 8.8 lakh were recovered from the duo.

The peddlers had also kept some tablets in their pockets which they wanted to sell to some clients. Police recovered around 88 grams of MDMA tablets from them. The mobile phones of the accused have been seized and are being examined.

The arrested drug peddlers have been identified as S Pavish (33) from Irinjalakuda in Thrissur district, Kerala and M Abijith (25) from Malappuram in Kerala.

The two were staying in the city on the second floor of a residential complex on Sri Devi Karumariyamma Temple Street in Whitefield. The police got the tip-off around 2.45 pm on Wednesday.

"We recovered a cardboard box from them. Inside the box, there was a doll which was stuffed with MDMA tablets. However, they had not mentioned the address to which they were sending the drugs. Three mobile phones and a scooter have been recovered from them," said a police officer, who is part of the probe team.

The two were targeting students from Kerala who are studying in Bengaluru-based colleges.

They have told the police that have been doing some business in the city, a claim being verified by the police. The Whitefield police have registered a case under the Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances Act, 1985 against the two.

Congress differs with Sonia on pardoning convicts

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Delhi/Chennai

REACTING sharply to the Supreme Court order, Congress said that it differed with Sonia Gandhi on pardoning them. Addressing a press conference in Delhi on Friday, Congress spokesperson Abhishek Singhvi said his party will seek legal remedy.

"The premature release of the six convicts, who had carried out the brutal, pre-meditated and heinous assassination of Rajiv Gandhi, has shocked the nation's conscience and has invited serious concern and criticism from all sides of the political spectrum," Singhvi said.

"The assassination of a former PM stands on a totally different footing. Irrespective of political color, such a person is reflective of the insignia of the sovereignty of the country," Singhvi said. On the question of why the party's opinion in this matter is at variance with Sonia Gandhi, the MP said, "Sonia Gandhi is entitled to her views but the party does not agree with it. We respect that. If we can disagree with Mrs Gandhi's views, we can disagree with the DMK as well," he said.

Meanwhile, the party's ally DMK and other political parties in Tamil Nadu, except the state Congress unit, BJP and the TMC, welcomed the verdict. The parties, while hailing the verdict, slammed Governor R N Ravi and his predecessor Banwarilal Purohit for delaying to take a call on the State Cabinet's decision to release these convicts.

CM MK Stalin said, "It's a historic verdict that upholds democratic principles. The ruling also underscored the fact that Governors should not keep the decisions taken by a popular government in abeyance as they are merely appointees to the gubernatorial post."

KTU VC row shouldn't hamper students: HC

ENS @Kochi

THE Kerala High Court on Friday observed that controversy over the appointment of vice-chancellor in the APJ Abdul Kalam Technological University (KTU) should not hamper the future of the students.

"It is up to the authorities concerned to decide whether the university should function or not, or if they want the litigation and controversy to continue," said Justice Devan Ramachandran, while admitting the state government's petition against the appointment of Ciza Thomas as the VC in-charge of KTU. Governor Arif Mohammed Khan had appointed Ciza to the post after the Supreme Court struck down the appointment of the previous VC citing violation of UGC norms. The state government had challenged his order.

The court said: "The question is whether anybody can be made a VC in-charge or whether there should be some guidelines. The SC made it clear that any provision of the statute that is contrary to UGC guidelines will have to viewed suspiciously," the HC said.

Resume subsidies, schemes for coffee growers: Association

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Madikeri

THERE is an immediate need to resume government subsidies and schemes in the coffee growing sector, said the Karnataka Planters' Association and United Planters' Association of South India (UPASI), during a press conference in Madikeri. The members also urged the government to promote 'Make in India' for the machines which are required by the sector.

"Climate change, man-animal conflict, decline in production due to diseases, rise in production cost and the perpetual shortage of required fertilizers have become challenges in the coffee growing sector.

The coffee production has reduced by 2.1 per cent in 2022 compared to the previous year. Government schemes should be reintroduced to help the sector," urged N Ramanathan, chairman of KPA.

Highlighting the perils of climate change, the members said that all three coffee growing districts Kodagu, Chikkamagaluru and Hassan plantations have suffered fruit rot and stalk rot diseases coupled with an increase in dropping of coffee beans.

They urged the government declare the three districts as flood-hit areas, and give compensation to the growers.

"The White Stem Borer disease has affected the Arabica plantation, which has been made worse by an absence of remedies," he added.

The government should set up an inter-ministerial committee to share the social cost in the 50:31:20% ratio by the central, state governments, and plantations respectively. Government should also fix the limit of MoP and urea fertilizer purchase, they said.

REPUBLICANS WIN BUT TRUMP FACES A STRONG RIVAL

The failure of the Republicans to whip up the expected red wave in the United States midterm elections has dealt a big blow to former president Donald Trump's candidature for the presidency in 2024. The Republicans were expected to sweep the elections, following which Trump was to announce his decision to run for the top office. However, the outcome appears to have turned the tables on him, especially with his party rival, Ron DeSantis, registering an emphatic victory in Florida. The results have turned DeSantis into a formidable contender for the Republican nomination. His supporters chanted "Two more years!" at his victory celebrations, indicating the Republican mood. Trump's dominance over his party has considerably weakened as his most vocal supporters who used to toe his line on election fraud have lost in the midterms. As results continue to pour in and the winner is yet to be decided, Trump appears diminished. He has warned an ascendant DeSantis against running for the top job. Trump has threatened to reveal unflattering information against his rival if he throws his hat in the ring.

The Democrats, too, have suffered a setback. They may lose control of the Senate, while a Republican majority in the House is beyond doubt. This is bad news for the Biden administration though the midterms threw up the best results for an incumbent president since 2002. Biden has claimed victory as his party held ground despite his low ratings and high inflation. But losing control of the House and Senate may cripple the Biden administration. So far as India is concerned, Biden has been trying to get his nominee Eric Garcetti cleared as his envoy to India for nearly a year. A further loss of support in the Senate and the House will stifle him. His advancing age and the growing international challenges combine with domestic troubles to make his party leaders look for an alternative for 2024.

Biden is keen on a second term, but his lacklustre performance has failed to enthuse the Democrats. His failure to rein in Putin, the increasing threat of China in the Indo-Pacific, and the refusal by old ally Saudi Arabia to toe the US line on oil production and pricing are issues that weigh heavily against Biden. The results may seem cheerful under the circumstances, but they may not be enough to win him another nomination.

SUSTAIN CRYPTO TRADE WITHOUT TAX EVASION

Despite the Union Budget 2022 bringing cryptocurrencies under the direct tax net, their legal and regulatory status remains where they have always been—in the unregulated territory. On February 1, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman announced two things. One, to launch an official cryptocurrency and the second, to levy a 30% tax on income from crypto assets with effect from April 1, 2022, besides a 1% TDS to disincentivise the crypto community. The first task has already gotten off the ground with the RBI launching a pilot digital rupee that's legal tender and not a cryptocurrency, which the central bank maintains is a threat to the nation's financial stability. With just three months to go for the forthcoming Budget which will likely see cryptos entering the indirect tax net, the government must call time and define virtual digital assets once and for all.

But the trouble is in its definition. Currently, the GST Act doesn't define cryptos or virtual digital assets and must be classified as goods or services. Under GST, goods include moveable properties but exclude money and securities. While services are anything other than goods, money and securities, they include the use of money or conversion from one currency to another, attracting commission or interest. But digital assets are strictly neither considered money nor security and hence need clarity. Elsewhere, cryptos are variously treated as property, currency, and commodities and are taxed accordingly. In other words, there's no universal way to tax cryptos, and India must chart its course about the valuation of crypto transactions and their tax liability.

The regulatory journey of cryptocurrencies, from an outright ban in 2018 to drafting legislation last year, has come a long way. And if there's one distinguishing element of cryptos, it's the speed with which it peaks and falls. The asset class is so dangerously volatile that the total global crypto market value fell off its all-time peak of $2.9 trillion in November 2021 to about $903 billion. The Centre's cautious stance is understandable, but it must avoid the scope of trading under the table. For instance, following the income tax levy on cryptos, it is suspected that trading moved to the grey market to avoid the taxman. A balanced approach encouraging participation is as essential as an efficient taxation structure to generate income and to ensure that the industry sustains.

QUICK TAKE

COURTING CRICKET

Chief Justice of India, Justice D Y Chandrachud, began his judicial work a bit late on his first official day. He apologised for keeping the lawyers waiting and promised 'no-stress courts' in future. In contrast to his emphasis on punctuality, the Patiala District Bar Association resolved 'no work after lunch' in the district courts because of the India-England World Cup semi-final match. The resolution favoured adjourning listed matters to other dates. No doubt, cricket is watched with enthusiasm bordering on religious in India. However, some judicial officers preferring proceedings on the pitch over those in the courtroom smacks of unprofessionalism.

With the world headed towards multipolarity, the outcome will mean a continued steady hand on US foreign policy

BIDEN NO LAME DUCK AS MIDTERM AVERTS A RED RUSH

K P NAYAR
Strategic analyst

When the midterm election results to the United States Congress started coming in on the morning of November 9, Indian time, the loudest sigh of relief after the White House came from Kyiv: a falsely predicted Republican sweep of the Senate and the House of Representatives would have weakened US support for Ukraine in its fight against Russia.

India can also take comfort from the outcome of the results, although it may be up to a month—until a second round of voting in the Senate race in Georgia on December 6—before it becomes absolutely clear who, if any party, will decisively control both Houses of Congress. Although both political parties in the US are committed to furthering India-US relations, a Republican sweep, unexpectedly warded off by Democrats, would have caused a gridlock in Washington with constant fights between a strong Republican Congress and a weakened President Joe Biden.

With the world clearly headed towards multipolarity following the outbreak of military conflict between Russia and Ukraine earlier this year, the election outcome will mean a continued steady hand on US foreign policy.

Washington's traditional allies, such as Tokyo, London, Tel Aviv and Ottawa, can take comfort from the sequel that Biden will not be a lame duck for the next two years that remain of his presidency.

Domestically, decisive defeats across the US for important Republicans allied with former president Donald Trump, who still claim that Biden won the White House through fraud, is a message that the "government of the people" and democratic institutions are strong in the US. This constitutes encouragement for democracies all over the world who look up to America as the oldest democracy in the world. Victories for the so-called "election deniers" in the Trump camp would have weakened the idea of choosing rulers through universal adult franchise in the US, with inevitable repercussions in weaker, free societies worldwide.

Going beyond the results, a shining star has risen on America's national political firmament: Ron DeSantis, who won re-election as Florida's governor, increasing his majority of a mere 32,000 votes four years ago to a spectacular 1.5 million now, could well be the Republican presidential candidate in 2024. Fellow Republicans who want to bury Trump politically will rally behind DeSantis as the only right-wing politician—as of now—who can stop a comeback by the 45th US President in two years. The victorious governor crushed Democrats so comprehensively in this election that for the first time in a century and a half, not a single Democrat has been elected to statewide office in Florida. Although DeSantis has been re-elected for a four-year term, his supporters chanted at his victory rally: "Two more years!" Not four. The implication was that after two more years as governor, DeSantis will occupy the White House. Sensing a challenge to his political comeback, Trump has threatened to reveal potentially damaging private information about the governor should he enter the Republican primary contest in the run-up to the next presidential poll season.

SOUMYADIP SINHA

Unlike in the Republican party, a crowded field of potential presidential aspirants is waiting in the wings among Democrats, should Biden choose not to contest for re-election. In recent weeks, the president has been waffling about whether he will seek another term. Most recently, he told an interviewer that he intends to seek re-election. Then he qualified that assertion with a rider that it does not mean he will seek re-election.

The midterm results threw up a star in the Democratic party, too: Michigan Governor Gretchen Whitmer, who has suddenly risen to the near top among likely choices as the party's candidates for the White House. Her victory was dramatic because it was double-digit in margin, she trounced a rival handpicked by Trump and along the way, hanging on her coat tails, Democrats gained control of both Houses of the Michigan state legislature for the first time in four decades. Whitmer is only 51 compared to Biden, who will be 82 when he seeks another term, if he takes the plunge yet again.

Kamala Harris has disappointed many rank-and-file in her party as vice president, but her appeal to the traditional Democratic vote banks—Blacks and women—is still strong. The party cannot win if these constituencies are alienated, which is likely if she seeks the presidency as the first African-American and first woman V-P in US history and loses the primaries.

Incumbent Transportation Secretary Pete Buttigieg is an appealing prospect for Democrats who are seeking generational change. He is only 40 and will be the second-youngest US President if he wins the nomination and is elected in 2024. He is gay, which matters in a party which champions progressive change, and came third in 2020 primaries after Biden and Vermont Senator Bernie Sanders.

It is now a truism in American politics that whoever becomes president will work for better relations with India. In the US Congress, both parties are ready to reach across the aisle and arrive at a consensus on issues related to India.

The unequivocal law of the land, Countering America's Adversaries Through Sanctions Act (CAATSA), is the best and most recent example. In July, the House of Representatives overwhelmingly voted in favour of an India-specific waiver on CAATSA, without which New Delhi could have been sanctioned for its purchase of Russian-made S-400 missiles. India and the US have handled their differences over Ukraine with a maturity rarely seen in America's "either you are with us, or you are with the terrorists" foreign policy. It is the high-decibel, pro-American lobby of Indians in New Delhi, who are more worked up about US reactions to the Narendra Modi government's Ukraine policy than those in charge in Washington themselves.

Last month, the Biden administration released a foundational US National Security Strategy. It explicitly described China as "America's most consequential geopolitical challenge". It also reiterated the importance of the Indo-Pacific in determining the outcome of this new Cold War. Those in charge of foreign policy in the White House and the State Department have made it clear that relations with India will not be hostage to any one issue. Not even trade, where negotiations may be more intractable than national security.

For Indo-US relations, fortuitously, the midterm poll results are only a blip on the radar and of little consequence.

TWITTER FACING THE BLUES UNDER ELON MUSK

C P SURENDRAN
Poet, novelist, and screenplay writer. His latest novel is One Love and the Many Lives of Osip B

If a blue-check marked alien tweeted from Mars, neither Elon Musk nor we would know if he/she is an alien. Until now. Over the last weekend, Musk tweeted: "Trash me all day, but it'll cost $8" to verify the alien as the neighbor whom you always suspected of hiding a flying saucer in the garage. Earlier, Musk was considering a charge of $20, when the novelist Stephen King tweeted: "$20 a month to keep my blue check? F—k that, they should pay me. If that gets instituted, I'm gone like Enron."

Musk then replied: "We need to pay the bills somehow! Twitter cannot rely entirely on advertisers. How about $8?"

Do not ask how Musk came down from $20 to $8. Indeed, what's the logic besides showing who is Boss in firing half the Twitter staff and then inviting some back as confusion in the workplace reigns?

I am reminded of an incident in my career as a journalist when a proprietor dismantled most of the editorial cabinets on the floor within the space of a few hours because he saw no occupants in them when he made his visit. That was just cabins. I have seen mass rationalisation in the workforce every time profit levels dipped.

The reason Musk offered for the bloodbath is that he was losing $4 million a day. The former chief of Twitter, Jack Dorsey, heroically took the blame for the mess, as "he grew the company too fast," he said. That grand self-admission, actually, a kind of reverse compliment he was paying himself, was typically woke-liberal: he wasn't taking a nickel from his billion-dollar loot to compensate those fired. Words, words, words, as Hamlet said.

And so, $8 it is, for the moment. According to one estimate, Twitter has some 4,23,000 verified blue tick accounts, most of them journalists/writers, film stars, and politicians. That's a lot of money then for Musk. Those journalists who are working for newspapers and such will eventually ask their institutions to foot the bill if the tweet in question is related to the published news. The other categories can afford to pay. Fame always comes with a price, as every celebrity knows.

So does free speech. Someone has to go to jail for it. Someone else would be tortured for it. A third would be canceled. There is the fourth, of course. The fourth is the man or woman looking to air her opinion all her waking hours without an inkling that she/he is working to make social media owners richer by the minute.

The fourth guy, predictably, woke-lib, is the most aggrieved at Musk's new demand. He/she forgets that Twitter is not an elected government, but a company. And that the privatisation of free speech cannot be at the expense of private profit. In any case, no government allows unconditional free speech. Not even the US or the UK: consider the case of Julian Assange. Or what's happening in India? Why should a private company be its guarantor?

> Even the unverified accounts must be charged by techno-capitalists; nominally, at least. This is the only way back to sanity so that virtual reality does not completely dominate the institutional and physical reality of our world

The trouble is Musk has not just stopped at charging fame-mongers $8. At one time, he tweeted that impersonators on Twitter would be, without warning, canceled, which is the social media equivalent of execution: "Going forward," Musk tweeted, "any Twitter handles engaging in impersonation without clearly specifying 'parody' will be permanently suspended."

All this has infuriated many. Their argument is that charging a fee for verified accounts is extortion; and that the 'parody' condition will give Twitter management (a euphemism for Musk) powers of arbitrary censorship. In short, they fear Musk will decide who can tweet. He will. But that was more or less what the earlier liberal management was doing too while paying themselves millions of dollars in compensation.

As an individualist, I believe Musk is right. Not because his deceptive, pinned tweet is 'Power to the People'. But because all social media, Facebook, Instagram, Signal, and such, should be chargeable. And it will happen. Surely sharks like Mark Zuckerberg and others would be keeping their eyes peeled at the Twitter disruption from within. Our social media obsession has altered our behavior to the point of bots and hashtag mobs taking over even the idea of justice from the courts. At no time in recent history has the due process of law, for example, been brought under so much pressure from the lay public. To sound outraged and to lead a virtual mob, sitting in the comfort of a drawing room or a toilet (the latter slightly more redeemed of purpose than the former), when they stand to lose literally nothing, like Jack Dorsey, but can experience, from the tip of their toe to the top of their head, the seductive tremor of virtue, is not a temptation easy to resist. Or the temptation of referring to Google to enable the inner pundit.

These are the new, cardinal sins of the information age. Virtue signaling and pontification. To be good. To be correct. With each post, social media facilitates self-canonisation. Meanwhile, you will note that the discussion on social media is no longer about gender-neutral pronouns and inclusion. It is about money. The real thing.

It's my submission that even the unverified social media accounts must be charged by techno-capitalists; nominally, at least. This is the only way back to sanity so that virtual reality does not completely dominate the institutional and physical reality of our world.

But none of this will prevent the real issue from coming to the fore. And that question is whether Musk is aiming to be the POTUS in the near future. He has 114 million followers and counting. If that is the motive at the bottom of it all, $44 billion is not too much of a price for him to pay. Especially if it is going to be eventually footed by those among us who want their identity to be authenticated by a check mark in blue. $8 is not much, is it, for announcing to the world you are for real.

Fighting spirit needed

India's defeat in the T20 semi-finals is saddening for cricket fans. It isn't the defeat itself that has caused resentment but England's facile win by 10 wickets. Victory and defeat are two sides of the same coin, but even when one is losing, a fighting spirit must shine. But this was lacking here.

A loss and a prophecy

The dreams of millions of Indian cricket fans across the world were shattered when India lost against England in the T20 semi-finals. That England surpassed the target suggests that India should have set it above 200. But one wonders how Shoaib Akhtar could predict that Pakistan will face England.

Centre-state relations

Apropos of Democracy and federalism within political parties (Nov 11). When the Congress was in power, federalism and Centre-state relations were excellent. When the BJP came to power with Modi at its helm, there was a shift from multi-party to a single-party system. Subsequently, conflicts ensued. But then again, in the context of many security threats, stability can be provided only if the same party is ruling at both the Centre and in the states. This is why the BJP is victorious.

SC must end feud

The friction between governors and state governments does not augur well for a healthy democracy. These two responsible institutions must work in tandem to improve the living conditions of the downtrodden. The SC must constitute a larger bench to re-examine this and draw a "Lakshmana Rekha" of sorts to keep the peace.

Denied top position in Parl panels, TMC lambasts govt

'36 MPs and zero chairmanship... BJP making mockery of democracy'

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

THE Trinamool Congress slammed the Modi government for not getting chairmanship in any of the recently reconstituted Parliamentary committees. TMC MP Derek O'Brien on Friday lashed out at the government over the choice of chairpersons of Parliamentary committees. He said that the choices of chairmanship are 'unfair' and 'undermine' the Parliamentary norms.

Taking to twitter, Derek O'Brien alleged: "56 new Chairpersons for #Parliament Committees announced. BJP make a mockery of it. Parties (including some soft allies) with fewer MPs become Chairpersons. Third largest party in Parliament, second largest Opposition party TMC get ZERO!"

He criticised the government for keeping the TMC unfairly out from the chairmanship of a Parliamentary committee even when the party has a strength of 35 MPs in the Parliament. He mocked at the government through a video presentation in which the Aam Aadmi Party is also shown having given no chairmanship in any Parliamentary committee, despite having the strength of 10 MPs in the Lok Sabha.

"Parties with fewer MPS have been given chairmanship while a party like TMC, which is the third largest party in Parliament, has been kept out from the chairmanship. It is an irony of ironies and a mockery committed by the BJP with democratic and parliamentary norms," he remarked.

As part of reconstitution of parliamentary committees and panels, notified by secretariats of both Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha, chairpersons of several committees have recently been appointed in which Indian National Congress with 84 MPs in the Lok Sabha has been given chairmanship in 5 Parliamentary committees. In the Lok Sabha, the TMC has 36 MPs but it has been given zero chairmanship, whereas DMK with its 34 MPs has got chairmanship in 3 Parliamentary committees. According to a data, the YSR CP has only 31 MPs, but it has got chairmanship in two committees while former ally of BJP in Bihar — JDU with 21 MPs in the LS has got chairmanship in 1 Parliamentary committee.

Telangana's TRS, which has a strength of 16 MPs, has been given one chairmanship in one of the committees. The BJD with a strength of 21 MPs in the LS, has been given chairmanship in 2 committees while the Shivsena (Uddhav faction) with 22 MPs in LS, has got chairmanship in one committee.

According to a data, shared by TMC MP to this newspaper on Friday, there are 24 department related Parliamentary standing Committees, 17 LS's other committees, 12 RS Standing (House) Committees and 3 Financial Committees. "But the TMC which is the third largest party in the LS has zero chairpersons in 56 Parliamentary Committees. It is a nothing but a totally unfair move," the TMC MP said. Derek O'Brien through a write-up has said: "Parliament is being undermined even when it is not in session".

The MP said that the number of sittings per year for Lok Sabha has also been reduced from an average of 121 days (1952-1970) to 68 days since 2000. "The Parliamentary Committees meet year round to discuss and deliberate on important issues and suggest improvements for the working of ministries and scrutinise legislation. But the rules and precedents are being junked in parliamentary committees just as much as on the floor of Parliament," he alleged.

Chairmanship in Parliamentary Committees

There are 24 department related Parliamentary standing Committees, 17 LS's other committees, 12 RS Standing (House) Committees and 3 Financial Committees.

What SC split verdict on EWS quota means

In a 3:2 majority verdict, the Supreme Court has upheld the 103rd constitutional amendment, passed by Parliament in January 2019, providing for 10% quota to those belonging to the Economically Weaker Sections (EWS) in education and government jobs. It inserted Articles 15(6) and 16(6) in the Constitution to provide up to 10% reservation to the EWS in the general category, that is, among non-OBC and non-SC/STs of the population. Shruti Kakkar & Preetha Nair explain what the majority and minority judgement is:

KEY PARTS OF JUDGEMENT

There are three key issues whether the 103rd amendment violates the basic structure of the Constitution in the following ways:

- For providing reservation on the basis of economic criteria
- For excluding the poor among the SC/ ST/OBC categories from EWS quota
- For breaching the 50% limit

MAJORITY VIEW OF JUSTICES DINESH MAHESHWARI, BELA M TRIVEDI & JB PARDIWALA:

ECONOMIC CRITERIA

- No blanket ban on providing reservation for other sections which are disadvantaged due to economic conditions
- Any legitimate effort of the state towards all-inclusive socio-economic justice by way of affirmative action of reservation in support of EWS cannot be lightly interfered with by the court
- The 103rd amendment signifies Parliament's intention to expand affirmative action to hitherto untouched groups who suffer similar disadvantages as OBCs

EQUALITY CODE

- The classes that are already the beneficiary of compensatory discrimination by virtue of Articles 15(4), 15(5) and 16(4), cannot justifiably raise the grievance that in another set of compensatory discrimination for another class, they have been excluded
- Thus, the exclusion of other groups and classes from the 10% reservation earmarked for EWS does not make them constitutionally aggrieved parties to invoke the general doctrine of equality for assailing the amendment in question

50% CEILING LIMIT

- Reservation for EWS sections does not cause any damage to the basic structure of the Constitution on account of breach of the ceiling limit of 50% because that limit is not inflexible and in any case, applies only to the reservations envisaged by Articles 15(4), 15(5) and 16(4) of the Constitution

REACTIONS

- Advocate on Record (AOR) Balaji Srinivasan: The EWS verdict should not have any impact on the current reservation system in Tamil Nadu. The government also should make sure that while implementing the new EWS quota, the old system is not disturbed.
- Vikas Singh, senior advocate: The SC verdict providing for 10% quota for EWS in government jobs and educational institutions won't have any impact on Tamil Nadu quota. A Constitution bench will decide on Tamil Nadu reservation only after it decides on the pleas on the Mandal verdict

MINORITY VIEW OF JUSTICE SR BHAT & EX-CJI JUSTICE UU LALIT

ECONOMIC CRITERIA

- To say that Indra Sawhney or any other judgment does not permit reservations or affirmative action based on economic criteria, alone, is incorrect. That judgment cannot restrain Parliament from introducing constitutional amendments that enact such criteria, as the basis of reservation benefits, or other special provisions
- The existing criteria for reservations cannot be the only way in which the state is permitted to achieve socio-economic justice goals: those criteria must be followed, but cannot preclude the introduction of new criteria

EQUALITY CODE

- Introducing the economic basis for reservation as a new criterion is permissible. Yet, the "othering" of socially and educationally disadvantaged classes, including SCs/ STs/ OBCs by excluding them from this new reservation on the ground that they enjoy pre-existing benefits, is to heap fresh injustice based on past disability
- It denies the chance of mobility from the reserved quota (based on past discrimination) to a reservation benefit based only on economic deprivation

50% CEILING LIMIT

- The breach of the 50% limit is the principal ground of attack on the 76th Constitutional Amendment 1994 which inserted as Entry 257A – the Tamil Nadu Backward Classes, SC/ST Act, 1993 in the IXth Schedule. The validity of that enactment, and whether the inclusion by the constitutional amendment violates basic structure, is directly an issue in a batch of cases pending before this court. The view of the members of this bench has a direct bearing on the likely outcome in the challenge in that proceeding

Ensure safety of Gyanvapi 'Shivling': SC

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday directed for continuation of its order for protection of an area where a "Shivling" was found in Gyanvapi premises till further orders.

A Special Bench of Chief Justice D Y Chandrachud, Justices Surya Kant and PS Narasimha further allowed the Hindu parties to approach the Varanasi District Court for consolidation of all suits concerning the Gyanvapi dispute. "Mr Vishnu Shankar Jain for the applicants seeks permission to withdraw the IA to enable the applicants to move the District Judge, Varanasi to consolidate the suits. IA is disposed of," the court said.

Appearing for the Hindu side, Senior Advocate Ranjit Kumar told the bench that the district judge on September 12, 2022 had dismissed Committee's plea that had questioned the maintainability of the suit filed by Hindu women seeking rights to worship Maa Shringar Gauri and other deities on mosque premises. He further apprised the court with regards to the revision petition that was filed before the Allahabad HC by the Committee of Management Anjuman Intezamia Masjid Varanasi against order passed by the district judge. Against this backdrop he urged the court to extend the interim order dated May 17 with regards to the protection of the "Shivling" since the same had to end on November 12. Considering the fact that senior advocate Huzefa Ahmadi representing the muslim side had no objection with regards to Kumar's request, the bench in their order said, "We direct that pending further order, interim order dated May 17 which was extended on May 20 shall continue to remain in operation till further orders."

On May 17, a 3-judge bench had directed the District Magistrate to ensure that the place inside the Mosque where "Shivling" is stated to have been found is protected.

Registry asked to list Mishra son's bail plea

The SC directed the Registry to list bail plea by Union Minister's son Ashish Mishra, main accused in farmers' deaths, with the bench that has dealt it elaborately. Apex court gives govt an earful for delay in action on collegium picks

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

PULLING up the Centre for the inordinate delay in acting on the recommendations made by the collegium for appointment of judges in the higher judiciary, the Supreme Court on Friday issued notice to the Secretary (Justice) and Additional Secretary (Administration and Appointments).

"Just keeping the names pending is something not acceptable" a bench of judges S K Kaul and A S Oka said, adding it seems to be a tactic to compel these persons to withdraw their names.

"With the expanding opportunities to prominent lawyers, it is as it is a challenge to persuade persons of eminence to be invited to the Bench and on top of that, if the process takes ages, there is further discouragement to them to accept the invitation," the court noted.

The inordinate delay from the government's side implies that the government neither appoints the persons and nor communicates its reservation, if any, on the names, the bench added.

Senior advocate Vikas Singh, who raised the issue, told the bench the Centre had also not acted upon the recommendation made by the collegium five weeks ago for elevation of Justice Dipankar Datta, Chief Justice of Bombay HC as judge of SC.

"There are 10 names pending... which have been reiterated by the Collegium from 04.09.2021 to 18.07.2022," the court noted.

RAJIV CASE

Order comes on petition filed by Nalini and Ravichandran

IN the Perarivalan case, the SC had taken into account his prolonged period of incarceration, his satisfactory conduct in jail as well as during parole, chronic ailments, educational qualifications acquired during custody and the pendency of his petition for release under Article 161 for two-and-a-half years after the recommendation of the state cabinet.

Friday's order came on a petition by Nalini and Ravichandran against a June 17 order of the Madras High Court dismissing their plea for premature release and bail. While refusing their plea, the HC had stated it did not have special powers that the Supreme Court has under Article 142 of the Constitution for such action.

The convicts then approached the Supreme Court seeking parallel relief citing the Perarivalan case verdict. Both Nalini and Ravichandran have been on parole since December 27, 2021.

Hours after the verdict, Nalini's mother Padma shared their family's sense of relief. "It is boundless joy and nothing but ecstasy," she said.

U'khand UCC panel gets suggestions on rights of LGBTQ, live-in couples

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

UTTARAKHAND, the first state in the country to constitute an expert panel to draft Uniform Civil Code (UCC), has received over three lakhs suggestions from the public, say its members. Some of the suggestions include inheritance rights for Muslim women, rights of LGBTQ community and live-in relationship couples, a ban on polygamy and polyandry, and equal rights of property for Muslim Women among others, according to the committee members.

The Pushkar Singh Dhami government set up a five-member committee in my this year, led by former Supreme Court Justice Ranjana Prakash Desai to discuss various aspects of a 'common law for all' in the hill state. The committee had received 22,000 emails, 35,000 suggestions by post, and 61,000 uploaded on the portal, said one of the members.

Speaking to this newspaper, former High Court Chief Justice Permod Kohli said that the committee received overwhelming responses, especially from the tribal belts. "Our team visited many tribal areas and we received overwhelming responses," he said.

The committee's mandate is to study the existing personal laws of different communities and draft a common law for all. In 2018, the 21st Law Commission, which prepared a working paper on UCC after extensive discussions with various stakeholders across the country, suggested that Muslim personal laws will have to be codified before embarking on drafting laws for UCC.

However, one of the members, requesting not to be named, said that the proposed law will have a thrust on gender equality instead of personal laws. "The UCC in the state will be framed on the principle of gender equality. It wouldn't be based on religions and personal laws," he said. Legal expert Faizan Mustafa had told this newspaper that Uttarakhand expert committee on UCC lacks experts on various personal laws. "Committees must consist of eminent experts in various personal laws," he had said.

Still alive with 100 shrapnel: Philip

THE officer, who is a motivational speaker, is now penning his autobiography. As a survivor of the world's first human and woman suicide bomber, he said, "Personally, I feel that the cause of justice and mercy have been served in the case. Before I retired last year, I used to feel that the assassins should be sentenced to life imprisonment until death. I had appealed before the specially designated TADA court to give me my blood-stained cap and name badge, which were in the custody of the trial court as prosecution exhibits, to wear it once on the day of my retirement for closure. The court gave in to my impassioned plea," said Philip.

He said his cap was rodent eaten and he appealed to the court to give it to him in permanent custody, to which the court approved graciously. "This was the first time in the criminal justice system anywhere that such an application was moved and granted on humanitarian grounds. After I retired, I had a feeling of letting go of the past. After the court set Perarivalan (Gandhi's assassin) free on May 18 this year, I felt that the other assassins, who had also spent long and the best years of their lives in prison should be enlarged as well," said Philip.

The former IPS officer said that out of the nine cops, who lost their lives on duty, there were policemen, who he had posted last minute on VIP duty to avoid infiltration inside the security cordon. "I could have been one of those who were killed in the suicide blast had not my SP, the late Mohd Iqbal not told me 'munna-di po' (move ahead) when I had inched closer to the VIP as measure of security. On his instructions, I had moved 3 feet ahead from the former PM. That I am alive today with 100 steel shrapnel inside me, each lethal enough to kill a man is divine grace," said the retired officer.

"It all happened within seconds. I had fallen unconscious. When I woke up, I had blood spattered on my face. I asked police inspector Chacko, who had come to carry me to the jeep, how Rajiv Gandhi was and he said, 'Sir, he has gone'. I thought it was all over," said Philip. The inspector put him in an old police jeep because the former's driver had fled the scene after the blast along with many others. "I had suffered 20 per cent burn injuries on my right side of the face and body. The shrapnel had entered my body in a heat of 2,000 degree Centigrade, the doctors told me later. I was very thirsty and asked for water, when a man with torn clothes got inside the jeep, put my blood-stained head on his lap and gave me a few sips of water. I asked him his name and he said, Purushottaman. I knew that my survival was providential," he narrated. Philip is originally from Bengaluru. He belongs to the IPS batch of 1987, Tamil Nadu cadre.

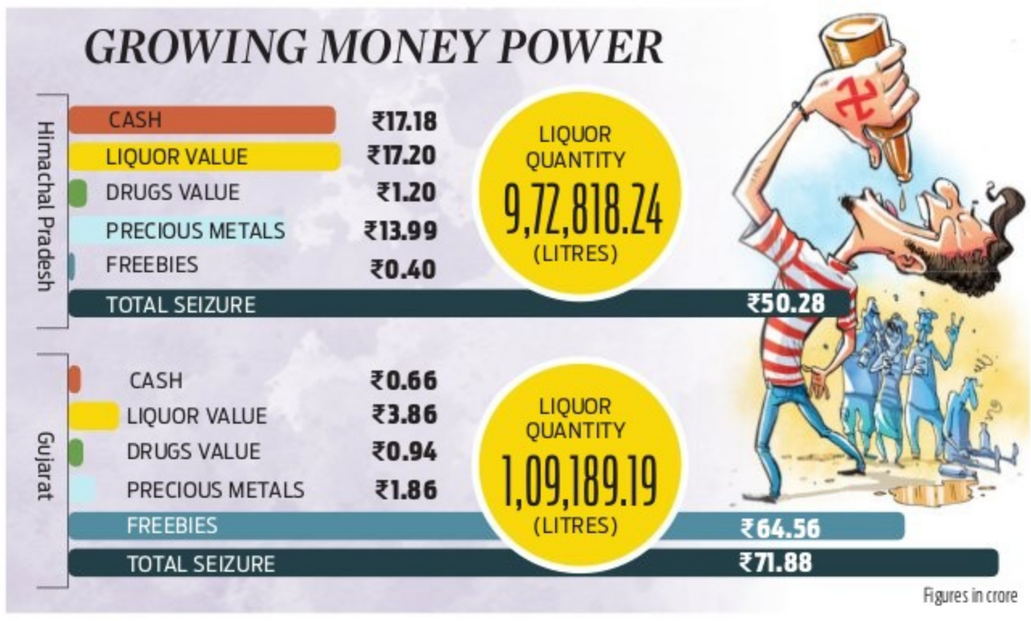
Big liquor, cash haul in HP & Guj ahead of polls

In hill state, value of confiscated articles, including cash, stands at ₹50.28 cr, which is five times higher than previous elections in 2017

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi



THE Election Commission of India (ECI) has made record seizures, including cash, liquor, precious metal, and gifts from poll-bound states —Himachal Pradesh and Gujarat — which was possibly to be used to influence electorates. In the hill state, the value of confiscated articles, including cash, stands at ₹50.28 crore, which is five times higher than the value of seizures made during the previous elections in 2017. People in Himachal will vote today.

From Gujarat, where polling will take place in two phases on December 1 and December 5, total seizure so far is of ₹71.88 crore. Within a few days of announcement of elections in the state, it had surpassed the seizures recorded duration of enforcement of Model Code of Conduct in Assembly elections 2017, which was ₹27.21 crore.

Though these are early days after the polls were announced in Gujarat, yet activity by the police has led to seizure of around 1.10 lakh litre of liquor worth ₹3.86 crore so far, said the Commission. The Election Watchdog further said that the Directorate of Revenue Intelligence (DRI) had also reported massive seizure amounting to ₹64 crore of toys and accessories, which were being smuggled by way of 'mis-declaration' and by resorting to concealment in import cargo at Mundra Port. Two persons including the mastermind in the case have been arrested and further investigation is under progress. The Investigation Wing of Income Tax Department, which is one of the main participating enforcement agencies, conducted raids at stone crushing units in 27 premises in Himachal Pradesh and adjoining states and seized a significant amount of cash. It also conducted search and seizure operations on manufacturers and traders of country liquor, wherein unaccounted cash was seized and discrepancies in stock and account keeping was observed. The comprehensive planning, reviews and follow-ups and active participation of enforcement agencies have led to record seizures in the ongoing Assembly elections in the states, said the Commission.

Further, if citizens become vigilant and use cVigil App more extensively, it would go a long way in curbing money power in the elections, it added.

The Union Home Ministry's undersecretary SP Choudhary had earlier sent the details of seven PFI suspects to the state chief secretary of Bihar Subhani, who subsequently asked the authorities concerned to book the seven suspects under UAPA.

Assam's unnatural deaths: Himanta for probe into killing of innocents

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

THE Assam government will reopen any case of unnatural death if the family of the deceased approaches the superintendent of police concerned expressing grievance that the investigation was incomplete and the police too believe there is a grey area.

Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma said on Friday he had given this direction to the police during a recent conclave with the SPs of the state.

He was briefing journalists on a recent case of alleged murder of a 13-year-old girl who worked at the house of an SSB jawan in Darrang district as a domestic help. The accused SSB jawan claimed she died by hanging. The CID of the police arrested Darrang SP, Additional SP, officer-in-charge of a local police station and a magistrate for "sabotaging" evidence. Three government doctors were also arrested for lapses.

"In any unnatural case of death, if the guardians have grievances such as that the investigation was not complete or the case could have been investigated further, they can meet the SP. The SP will look afresh at the case if there is a grey area. It could even be a 15-year-old case. There is no time bar in criminal cases," Sarma said.

The state government also decided that after every incident of unnatural death, the SP and the DIG concerned would visit the site from now on.

"I said at the SP's conference that whenever there is an incident of unnatural death, particularly murder and suicide, the SP and the DIG will visit the site. The case will not be closed until they are satisfied," Sarma said.

Stating that efforts are being made to strengthen the system, he said, "There are often cases of sexual assault of domestic helps and their murder. The accused would claim the victim had committed suicide. Sometimes, post-mortem and inquest reports do not help the police, rather they help the accused," the CM said.

Talking about the incident in Darrang, he said someone had alerted him on WhatsApp late at night. He said he had suspected something was wrong, as the police had arrested the prime accused only after he had intervened.

"It is for the court to decide (if those arrested are guilty) but our investigation shows that there was a compromise right from SP, ASP, OC, magistrate to the three doctors," Sarma said. "Through this inquiry, we sent a strong message to the police, magistrates and doctors to do their duties diligently," the CM added. After the incident, he visited the house of the deceased along with Director General of Police Bhaskar Jyoti Mahanta. Later, the case was handed over to the CID.

Centre alleges Didi govt not sharing dengue data

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kolkata

UNION Minister of State for Health Bharati Pravin Pawar on Friday said that the West Bengal government has not shared any information on dengue outbreak with the Centre, despite repeated requests.

Bharati, who was in the state capital to participate in the 16th Asian Conference on Diarrhoeal Disease and Nutrition (ASCODD), said the Centre was constantly trying to guide the states in controlling the vector-borne disease but the Bengal government is not responding.

"Our portal receives feedback from all states, but West Bengal has not shared any information on this despite our repeated requests. We have not received any information on how many dengue patients are in West Bengal, and also the number of deaths. This information must be shared with the Centre," she said.

"Without information, providing help is not possible," she added. However, the West Bengal government, pointing to glitches in the Centre's website, claimed that it has been sharing information. When asked about the minister's allegation, state director of Health Services Siddhartha Niyogi, who was also present at the programme, said, "Even after the information is shared with the Centre, the website is updated late. The state health department has been sending information for many months."

According to the National Centre for Vector Borne Diseases and Control's website, West Bengal last provided dengue -related data on September 30, mentioning 239 cases and zero deaths. Sources in the state health department said that over 50 people have died and 52,000 people infected since the beginning of the outbreak this season.

UK economy contracts in July-September quarter by 0.2%

LONDON

BRITAIN'S economy shrank in the third quarter as inflation soars, official data showed on Friday, likely confirming it is already in a recession, dealing a fresh blow to new Prime Minister Rishi Sunak.

The Bank of England has said the UK economy would also contract in the current final quarter, meaning the economy was in a recession that it warned could last until mid-2024.Friday's data comes ahead of the Conservative government's crucial budget announcement next week aimed at bringing much-needed economic and political stability to Britain.

Sunak, in charge for less than three weeks, has already faced questions over his political judgement after expressing regret on Wednesday for appointing a disgraced ally.

Britain's Office for National Statistics on Friday said the nation's economy contracted 0.2% in the July-September period — in part hit by businesses closing for the funeral of Queen Elizabeth II.Output had grown modestly in the second quarter, the statistics office confirmed. AFP

INDUSTRIAL HUB

Kherson, which had a prewar population of 2,80,000, is the only regional capital to be captured by Russian forces

Its loss was a major blow to Ukraine because of its location on the Dnieper River near the mouth of the Black Sea, and its role as a major industrial center

Kherson also sits at a point where Ukraine can cut off fresh water from the Dnieper to Crimea

TURNING THE TABLES

The months-long Ukrainian offensive to recapture the city of Kherson is coming to an end. The fall of the city would deal another humiliation to Moscow after a string of defeats

OPENS DOOR TO ZAPORIZHZHIA

A retreat from Kherson and other areas on the Dnieper's west bank would shatter Russian hopes to press an offensive west to Mykolaiv and Odesa to cut off Ukraine's access to the Black Sea

For Ukraine, capturing Kherson would set the stage for reclaiming the Russia-occupied part of the Zaporizhzhia region and other areas in the south, and eventually pushing back into Crimea

Ukrainian flag rises in Kherson as 8-month Russian occupation ends

Major victory for Kyiv as its forces enter strategically significant southern city

KYIV

UKRAINE said on Friday its forces were entering the southern city of Kherson and hailed an "important victory" after Russia announced its troops had retreated from the only regional capital it has captured after nearly nine months fighting.

The announcement that Moscow's pullout was over came hours after Russian strikes killed seven people in Mykolaiv, a city near Kherson, that Russian troops have battered for months.

"Kherson is returning to Ukrainian control and units of the Armed Forces of Ukraine are entering the city," the defence ministry said on social media.

It added that its artillery teams had clear views over Russia's routes to retreat and warned: "Any attempts to oppose the Armed Forces of Ukraine will be stopped."

Russia announced earlier that it had finished pulling back its troops.

But the Kremlin insisted that Kherson was still part of Russia and that it did not regret annexing the entire Kherson region at a lavish ceremony in late September.

"The transfer of Russian troops to the left [eastern] bank of the Dnipro River was completed. Not a single piece of military equipment and weapons was left on the right [western] bank," the Russian defence ministry said.

"Ukraine is gaining another important victory right now and proves that whatever Russia says or does, Ukraine will win," Foreign Minister Dmytro Kuleba wrote on social media. He posted an amateur video showing Ukrainians removing a billboard near Kherson that proclaimed: "Russia is here forever".

Ukraine's parliament published pictures of people with Ukrainian flags in the city centre.

Kherson was the first major urban hub to fall to Russian troops after President Vladimir Putin announced Moscow's "special military operation" in Ukraine, and it was the only regional capital his forces seized.

Its full recapture by Kyiv would be a political and symbolic blow to Putin and open a gateway for Ukraine's forces to the entire Kherson region, with access to both the Black Sea in the west and Sea of Azov in the east. Agencies

US to send $400 million more in military aid

The US will send $400 million more in military aid to Ukraine, US officials announced Thursday, amid concerns that financial assistance for the war against Russia could decline a bit if Republicans take control of Congress. The aid comes as the vote counting from Tuesday's election continues, with Republicans inching closer to a narrow House majority and with control of Senate hinging on tight races in three states

CHAOS DEEPENS

Musk says Twitter could go bankrupt, senior officials leave

SAN FRANCISCO

TWITTER faces bankruptcy if it fails to generate significant revenue from its subscription service, Elon Musk warned the firm's employees.

"Without significant subscription revenue, there is a good chance Twitter will not survive the upcoming economic downturn," Musk said in the email to employees, adding that "bankruptcy isn't out of the question".

Musk's warning came as Twitter descended deeper into chaos with key security executives resigning, drawing a sharp warning from US regulators.

The walkouts came after a turbulent launch of new Twitter features following the Tesla and SpaceX owner's $44 billion buyout of the influential messaging app.

"I've made the hard decision to leave Twitter," tweeted chief security officer Lea Kissner, who reportedly stepped down with other key privacy or security executives.

In the most extraordinary exit, US media reported that Yoel Roth — the site's head of trust and safety — stepped down just a day after staunchly defending Musk's content moderation policy to advertisers.

Late on Thursday, Roth's Twitter bio identified him as "Former Head of Trust & Safety at @Twitter."

Media reports had said Robin Wheeler, who held a key role linking Twitter with advertisers and was considered a key Musk ally inside the company, was leaving but late Thursday she tweeted: "I'm still here."

Elon Musk

The site's update included a launch of the long-awaited Twitter Blue subscription service, which allowed users to pay $7.99 per month for a coveted blue tick, as well as a separate gray "official" badge for some high-profile accounts.

But on Wednesday Musk scrapped the new gray label almost immediately, overshadowing the launch of the paid service, which is only available on the mobile app on iPhones and in the United States.

The chaos drew a rare warning from the Federal Trade Commission, the US authority overseeing consumer safety that had put Twitter under watch for past security and privacy breaches.

"We are tracking recent developments at Twitter with deep concern," an FTC spokesperson said in a statement.

"No CEO or company is above the law, and companies must follow our consent decrees," the spokesperson added, referring to past commitments by Twitter to obey US privacy rules. Violating FTC decisions could cost Twitter millions of dollars in fines. Agencies

Nations must step up to cut emissions: Biden

WASHINGTON

US President Joe Biden told the COP27 climate conference Friday that the world needs to "step up" to cut carbon emissions in the hope of bringing global warming under control.

"Every nation needs to step up. At this gathering, we must renew and raise our climate ambitions," he said.

"It's a duty and responsiblity of global leadership. Countries that are in a position to help should be supporting developing countries so they can make decisive climate decisions -- facilitating their energy transitions, building a path to prosperity compatible with our climate imperative."

"The United States will meet our emissions targets," he said, laying out major legislation passed under his presidency, including the largest ever US government investment in clean energy.

"Every nation needs to step up. At this gathering, we must renew and raise our climate ambitions," he said in a speech that lasted about 22 minutes and was briefly interrupted by unidentified people in the crowd making howling noises. Biden will spend only a few hours at COP27 in Sharm el-Sheikh, three days after US midterm elections that have raised questions about what the result could mean for US climate policy. AFP

Trump targets rising Republican star and potential 2024 rival DeSantis

WASHINGTON

DONALD Trump, who has teased a potential third campaign for the US presidency, on Friday attacked Florida Republican Ronald DeSantis who has become a star in US conservative circles following his landslide win in Florida Governor election.

The victory has led to speculations that DeSantis may run for president in 2024, hurting Trump's chances, should he also choose to contest.

In a lengthy statement published on his social media website, Truth Social — Trump called DeSantis as "average" governor who benefited from "great Public Relations."

"And now, Ron DeSanctimonious is playing games! The Fake News asks him if he's going to run if President Trump runs [in 2024], and he says, 'I'm only focused on the Governor's race, I'm not looking into the future.' Well, in terms of loyalty and class, that's really not the right answer," Trump said.

Trump's attack on DeSantis comes as the powerful media empire of conservative billionaire Rupert Murdoch appeared to turn its back on him.

The cover of NewsCorp's tabloid New York Post depicted Trump on a precarious wall as "Trumpty Dumpty" who "had a great fall" in the vote, blaming him for the failure of Republicans to sweep past Democratic rivals in the vote.

Donald Trump

Florida Governor Ronald DeSantis

And at the hugely influential Fox News television network, praise was thick for Florida's DeSantis, seen as Trump's top rival for the party's 2024 presidential election.

"The biggest winner of the midterm elections was without a doubt Governor Ron DeSantis, whose landslide victory in the state of Florida was breathtaking," wrote Fox columnist Liz Peek. After supporting him through his 2017-2021 presidency, Fox, a Murdoch arm separate from News Corp, did not completely abandon Trump, still the most powerful figure in the Republican Party.

But even the network's biggest star, talk-show host Tucker Carlson, assailed the Republican establishment for Tuesday's ballot box failures and at least partly blamed the ex-president. Agencies

US crypto platform FTX goes bankrupt

NEW YORK

CRISIS-STRUCK cryptocurrency platform FTX has gone bankrupt in the United States and its chief executive Sam Bankman-Fried has resigned, it said Friday, the latest blow in a saga that has reverberated across the digital currency landscape.

The filing comes after the world's biggest cryptocurrency platform Binance agreed to buy its rival earlier this week but backed out, leading market players to consider possible regulator responses.

FTX Group announced in a statement Friday that it filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy proceedings, adding it has begun an "orderly process to review and monetize assets for the benefit of all global stakeholders."

Chapter 11 is a US mechanism allowing a company to restructure its debts under court supervision while continuing to operate.

This week's financial chaos at FTX has seen major cryptocurrencies, including bitcoin, plunge.Bankman-Fried issued a "sincere" apology Thursday.

The cash-strapped company added in its statement that it has appointed John J Ray as chief executive with immediate effect. AFP

Sharif bros vow not to bow to pressure over Army chief

ISLAMABAD/LONDON

THE meeting between Pakistan Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif and his elder brother Nawaz Sharif in London has decided that the government will not succumb to any pressure, including from Imran Khan, on the appointment of the successor of army chief Gen Qamar Javed Bajwa, according to media reports on Friday.

Shehbaz Sharif met Nawaz Sharif, the supremo of Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz (PML-N) this week and decided to not give in to Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) chief Imran Khan's demand to announce early polls, the Dawn newspaper reported.

Shehbaz Sharif

The Sharif brothers have maintained that the power to appoint the army chief rest with the country's premier and will not be surrendered at any cost, the report quoted a source as saying.

According to a PML-N insider, Shehbaz's government had 'cer'tain pressures' from some quarters over the issue of the army chief's appointment and fresh polls, which is why the prime minister sought to discuss it with the party supremo to decide whether to accept these demands or not, the report said.

The sources also said that the possibility of Gen Bajwa's extension was also discussed during the meeting.

Gen Bajwa's tenure is set to end on November 29.

However, the Pakistan Army has denied speculation about its chief Gen Bajwa having another tenure as he has already begun paying farewell visits to various garrisons as part of the tradition.

Pakistan's Defence Minister Khawaja Asif who was in London with Prime Minister Shehbaz and others also confirmed that the primary discussion of the meeting was key issues related to the country's developments, the appointment of the new army chief, along with the recent statements made by military's media wing on General Bajwa's farewell, and government's strategy to deal with the PTI's long march, the Express Tribune newspaper reported.

Sensex, Nifty gain 2% as rate hike pressure eases

Better-than-expected US inflation data push up mkts across globe

ARSHAD KHAN @New Delhi

INDICES TOUCH NEW HIGHS

SENSEX
New 52-week high: 61,841
Closed 1.95% higher at 61,795

NIFTY
New 52-week high: 18,362
Closed 1.78% higher at 18,350

Tech Mahindra: 3.64%
HCL Tech: 3.56%

INDIA'S equity market rose in tandem with global peers after the October US inflation data indicated that inflation has peaked.

This has raised hopes that the US Federal Reserve and central banks worldwide (including the RBI) would slow down and eventually stop hiking key interest rates in near future.

Led by heavyweights -- HDFC twins, information technology (IT) stocks, Reliance Industries, Tata Steel, L&T and Bajaj twins -- the BSE Sensex touched a fresh 52-week high of 61,841 intraday, while the broader Nifty50 peaked to 18,362.

The benchmarks, eventually, closed the Friday session about 2% higher at 61,795, and 18,350 levels, up 1,181 points and 322 points, respectively.

"Equity markets across the world, developed and developing, were strong as the inflation data in the US was better than expected. This essentially has reduced the recession probability from 60% to 40% and has brought down the expectation of a peak benchmark rate from 5.25% to 5%. This is the first spark of good news from the US in a long time and has been instrumental in lifting investor sentiments," said Sushant Bhansali, CEO, Ambit Asset Management.

Data released by the Bureau of Labour Statistics (US) on Thursday showed that US Inflation for October has come in at 7.7% as against 8.2% in September and 8.3% in August. Following this, Dow Jones jumped 3.7% and the S&P 500 galloped 5.54%, its biggest rally since April 2020.

Major Asian benchmarks grew by 2-7% on Friday.

Devang Mehta, head - equity advisory, Centrum Wealth, said it is too early to predict, but if the global volatility subsides & if the sentiment improves, India will receive a huge share of foreign institutional investments in addition to already strong domestic flows (SIPs close to 13000 Cr every month). FIIs made a net investment of ₹3,958 crore on Friday, as per the NSE data.

He added that Indian markets have been like a silver lining with good macros and micros amid the global dark clouds of high inflation, interest rates and global recession fears.

The prospects of less hawkish moves by the Federal Reserve also helped the rupee to appreciate by 62 paise to close at 80.78 (provisional) against the US dollar on Friday. The dollar index, which gauges the greenback's strength against a basket of six currencies, slipped 0.82% to 107.31.

@ New Delhi

LIFE INSURANCE CORPORATION (LIC) on Friday reported more than 10-fold jump in its net profit for the second quarter of the financial year 2022-23.

The state-run insurer's September quarter (Q2FY23) consolidated net profit after tax (PAT) came at ₹15,952 crore as against ₹1,434 crore PAT reported in the same quarter last fiscal (Q2FY22).

In the preceding quarter (Q1FY23), the insurance giant had reported a net profit of ₹683 crore.

The unrealistic surge in PAT in the quarter ending September is attributed to a change in accounting policy of the company.

"Change in accounting policy resulted in transfer of the accretion in the available solvency margin from non-par to shareholders' funds amounting to ₹14,271 crore (net of tax) pertaining to the accretion on the available solvency margin from Non-Par to shareholders' accounts, due to which the profit for the quarter and half-year ended September 30, 2022, has increased to that extent," LIC informed to the exchanges.

The said amount (₹14,271 crore) comprises of ₹5,580 crore (net of tax) of quarter ended September 30, 2022, ₹4,148 crore (net of tax) of quarter ended June 30, 2022, and ₹4,542 crore (net of tax) of quarter ended March 31, 2022.

LIC's net premium income improved 27% year-on-year to ₹1.32 lakh crore in Q2FY23 from Rs 1.04 lakh crore in the year-ago period. The company's first-year premium, an indication of business growth, during the quarter came at ₹9,125 crore, up 11% year-on-year. The renewal premium grew by 2% to ₹56,156 crore, while single premium rose 62% to ₹66,901 crore.

LIC's gross non-performing assets (NPA) as on September 30 was ₹26,111 crore, compared to ₹26,619 crore by the end of June quarter, and ₹28,929 crore a year ago.

The company's share prices ended 1.17% higher at ₹628.05 on BSE on Friday ahead of the results. The stock is down more than 28% since its discounting listing on May 17.

RIL, Adani Group among 13 firms in race to acquire debt-laden Future Retail

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

TWO of Asia's richest billionaires -- Gautam Adani, the chairman of Adani Group, and Mukesh Ambani, the owner of Reliance Industries -- are in race to acquire debt-laden Future Retail Ltd (FRL).

This is probably the very first time when the two billionaires are competing against each other over an acquisition. The two conglomerates who had previously avoided entering into each other's territory have started giving competition to each other in businesses such as green energy and media to begin with. Reliance Retail ventures and April Moon Retail Private Ltd, a joint venture between Adani Airport holdings and Flemingo group, are among 13 firms that have submitted expressions of interest (EOIs) for Future Retail. Other entities that have submitted EOIs include Bommidala Enterprises,Capri Global Holdings, Consortium between B-Right Real Estate and Ayekart Fintech, Dharampal Satyapal, Dickey Alternative Investment Trust (DAIT), Nalwa Steel and Power, Payard Investments, Shalimar Corp, SNVK Hospitality and Management, United Biotech and WH Smith Travel, as per the document issued by Resolution Professional (RP) for Future Retail.

The final list of entities that have shown interest will be issued on November 20. Following which they will be asked to submit a resolution plan by December 15. This implies Future Retail, which once was among the country's biggest retailers, will find a new owner in 2023. FRL was dragged into bankruptcy proceedings by its lenders after it defaulted on loans. As of September 2, 2022, the RP has received claims of ₹21,432.82 crore from financial creditors, which mainly include banks and financial institutions.

Industrial output rises 3.1% in September from negative 0.7% in August

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

THE index for industrial product (IIP) grew 3.1% in September after hitting an 18-month low in the month of August.

The IIP had contracted by 0.7% in August, as per the Ministry of Statistics and Programme Implementation. The IIP numbers rose on account of improvement in the electricity and mining sectors. While electricity output rose by 11.6% year-on-year (YoY), the mining sector registered a growth of 4.6%. The mining sectors had witnessed a contraction of 3.9% in August, whereas electricity had grown by only 1.4%.

Meanwhile, the mining sector grew by only 1.8% as against a contraction of 0.5% in August. Consumer durables and non-durables again witnessed a decline. While consumer durables output plummeted by 4.5%, non-durable goods declined by 7.1%.

"A revival of 3.1% in industrial production is a strong indication of improving output and demand conditions in the economy. The boost to industrial production in September is coming from a significant growth in capital and infrastructure output. Revival in manufacturing output is moderate and is yet to show significant recovery," Vivek Rathi, Director-Research, Knight Frank India said. "Going forward, strong manufacturing sector performance as witnessed in expansionary manufacturing PMI and improving capacity utilisation provides impetus to the manufacturing output, which would boost industrial production. Also, cues from post Diwali season sales sustenance of manufactured products and RBI action in December on credit flow and interest rates will hold key for industrial production," Rathi added.

Moody's cuts India's growth projection to 7%

MOODY'S on Friday further lowered India's growth projection to 7% in 2022 from earlier outlook of 7.7% amid global slowdown, inflation and rising interest rates. It expects growth to further plunge to 4.8% in 2023 and then to rise to about 6.4% in 2024. Earlier in September, it had cut outlook to 7.7% from 8.8% estimated in May. "The downward revision assumes higher inflation, high interest rates and slowing global growth will dampen economic momentum by more than we had previously expected," Moody's said in a report.

HONG KONG

ECONOMY SHRINKS FOR THIRD STRAIGHT QUARTER

Hong Kong's economy contracted 4.5% in the third quarter from a year earlier, advance government data showed on Friday, weighed down by rising global interest rates and a slump in trade. It was the third consecutive quarter of year-on-year contraction for the Asian financial hub's GDP, and marked the worst contraction since the second quarter of 2020. The decline widened from 1.3% in the second quarter. The government also revised down its full-year growth forecast to minus 3.2%, from between 0.5% and minus 0.5%, citing a deteriorating global growth outlook. On a quarterly basis, the economy contracted by a seasonally adjusted 2.6% in the July-September period. While Hong Kong has relaxed social distancing measures put in place to curb COVID-19 infections, the border with mainland China has been largely closed since early 2020, choking off mainland tourism spending, a key driver of consumer growth. The city is also facing headwinds from high inflationary pressure and aggressive monetary tightening in advanced economies.

THAILAND

'BAHT STRENGTHENING IN LINE WITH OTHER CURRENCIES'

Strengthening of Thailand's baht was in line with regional currencies, the central bank said in a statement on Friday. The currency strengthened due to a weakening dollar as investors expected less aggressive rate hikes from the US Federal Reserve, the Bank of Thailand said, adding that financial markets remained volatile. In another ddevelopment, Thai consumer confidence rose for a fifth straight month in October, reaching a 10-month high, bolstered by improved economic activity following the easing of Covid-19 curbs, a survey showed on Thursday. The consumer index of the University of the Thai Chamber of Commerce rose to 46.1 in October from 44.6 in the previous month. Headline CPI rose 5.98% in October from a year earlier, official data showed on Monday, slightly lower than forecast and the slowest pace in six months. The rise follows September's 6.41% rise and was just shy of the 6% forecast in a Reuters poll. It was the lowest since April's 4.65%. Core CPI index, which strips out energy and fresh food prices, was up 3.17% in October.

PHILIPPINES

CENTRAL BANK GUV STICKS TO 75 BPS RATE HIKE PLAN

Philippines central bank governor Felipe Medalla repeated on Friday he will vote to raise interest rates by 75 points at the monetary authority's November 17 meeting. Medalla, who heads the seven-member policy making monetary board, told reporters it was necessary for rates to rise by that magnitude to bring inflation back to target next year. A rate increase would help stem the peso's fall against the dollar as it will prevent rate differentials between the US and the Philippines from narrowing significantly, Medalla said in a recorded speech. "Keeping a comfortable differential between our policy rates and that of the US lends support to the peso," Medalla said, adding the central bank was prepared to intervene in the forex market to smooth volatility. The BSP's meeting comes after data on Thursday showed the Philippine economy grew 7.6% in third quarter on an annual basis, and 2.9% on a quarterly basis, beating estimates, as domestic demand held up despite soaring inflation.

Adani Power posts ₹696 cr profit in Q2

NEW DELHI: Adani Power Ltd (APL), a part of Adani Group, reported a net profit of ₹696 crore in the second quarter ending September 2022 (Q2FY23), as against the ₹231 crore loss in Q2FY22, due to higher one-time income. Macroeconomic headwinds: Toy industry faces the heat of slowdown

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

WITH macroeconomic conditions and recession fears, the global toy industry is facing the heat with sharp declines in higher value products.

Aravind Melligeri, CEO of Aequs, a contract manufacturing company for aerospace, toys, and consumer durables goods industries, said they are feeling the heat as higher value products ($50 and above) have been struggling in the market. Aequs, which is into exports, has set up a 400-acre toy cluster in Koppal, Karnataka. It is also focusing now on the domestic market. With the holiday season coming in, the exact demand and impact would be known. "Some volumes are coming down," he said. With the holiday season coming in, they are yet to see how the impact would be. But $15-$20 products are doing fine compared to $50 and above, he said.

Melligeri sees huge opportunities in the domestic market, and hopes production-linked incentives (PLI) for toys will boost exports. It has the potential to create many jobs. The Indian toy industry has been growing, as exports have increased to $177 million in 2021-22, and this could reach $1 billion in the next five years.

Of the about $90 billion global toy market, India accounts for only $1.5 billion annually. China dominates in the toy business, followed by Vietnam and Mexico. Aequs is currently doing only certain types of toy products and not complex ones like dolls. "We don't make dolls like Barbie as they are more complex," he said. The firm also has an industrial park for consumer durables in Hubballi, Karnataka. "We started the consumer durable business during Covid time. During pandemic, we realised that this could be an opportunity to scale up," he said. Aequs specialises in precision machining for AeroSystems, Aerostructures, landing gear and engine components, forging and surface treatment, among others.

US treasury secy Yellen nudges India to cut biz ties with China, Russia

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

SEEKING to nudge India to cut trade ties with China and Russia, US treasury secretary Janet Yellen on Friday said it is high time the world moved away from doing business with "risky countries".

Pitching the concept of 'friendshoring', where countries will source their needs from those with shared values, she said: "For too long, countries around the world have been overly dependent on risky countries or a single source for critical inputs. We are proactively deepening economic integration with trusted trading partners like India."

Meanwhile, in a separate development that could sweeten the pitch, the US Department of Treasury on Friday removed India from its Currency Monitoring List. India had been on the list for the last two years.

Yellen also noted that the while the Ukraine war has brought distress to the world economy with energy prices skyrocketing, the challenges from the conflict and supply strains have in fact brought India and the US closer together. India is an indispensable partner to the US, Yellen added.

Addressing the media jointly with Yellen, Union finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman said that India and the US will look forward to strengthening bilateral ties with greater vigour. "We will continue to rely on close cooperation with the US to address the global economic challenges in a more coordinated manner and in strengthening multilateralism," she said.

We can call them chokers: Kapil after India's WC exit

Kapil Dev has labelled the current Indian team as "chokers" after their elimination from the T20 World Cup. "I will not go into the details and slam them because these are the same players who have gotten us a lot of respect in the past but yes, we can call them chokers. That's okay. There is no denying it — after coming so close, they choke," Kapil told a news channel.

NOT IN THE SAME LEAGUE

Dravid's response about possibility of Indians figuring in other franchise events fails smell test for number of reasons

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Chennai

India captain Rohit Sharma (L) with coach Rahul Dravid during the T20 WC | AFP

RAHUL Dravid and Rohit Sharma contradicted each other in their respective post-match conferences on Thursday. While the latter threw the bowlers under the bus, the former conceded they were a few runs short at the 15-overs mark. Dravid, who was appointed as coach following the last World Cup, made another curious remark. When asked if Indian players would have benefited if they took part in the Big Bash League — Australia's domestic T20 league — the former Indian skipper gave a rather elaborate answer. The question, in full, was: "Rahul, one of the differences between India and England here is obviously the England guys, everyone on that team has played Big Bash or got experience playing here. We haven't seen Indian players allowed to play overseas T20 leagues the entire time of the IPL. Can you see that ever changing, and do you think it would help in sort of a holistic cricket sense?"

Dravid's response, in full. was: "I mean, sure, there's no doubt about it the fact that England — a lot of their players have come here and played. In this tournament, it certainly showed. It's tough. I think it's very difficult for Indian cricket because a lot of these tournaments happen right at the peak of our season.

"Yes, I think a lot of our boys maybe do miss out on the opportunities of playing in a lot of these leagues, but if you were to — it's really up to the BCCI to make that decision, but the thing is it's right in the middle of our season, and with the kind of demand there would be for Indian players, if you allowed all the Indian players to play in these leagues, we would not have domestic cricket. Our domestic trophy, our Ranji trophy would be finished, and that would mean Test cricket would be finished.

"I know a lot of people talk about it, but we have to be very careful when we — we have to understand the challenges that Indian cricket faces or the BCCI would face in a situation like this. You'd see all our boys — like a lot of boys being asked to play leagues right bang in the middle of our season.

"We've seen what that's done to West Indian cricket, and I would definitely not want Indian cricket to go that way. It would certainly affect our Ranji trophy; it would affect Test cricket. Indian boys playing Test cricket is pretty important for the Test game, as well, I would think."

There's a lot to unpick in this answer. Before coming to Dravid's fear that India would go the West Indies way if it were allowed, his opinion that 'we would not have domestic cricket (if Indian players were allowed to play in foreign leagues)' is questionable, to say the least. For starters, most of India's established white-ball players and the ones on the immediate periphery anyway don't play in the Ranji Trophy. To be fair, most of them are busy playing international cricket elsewhere at that time of the season (for example, a part of this year's Ranji Trophy overlaps with an away series against Bangladesh). But when they are free, it's not like they are in a hurry to turn up for their domestic sides.

Here's an example of a few players that will drive home this point. Deepak Hooda and Sanju Samson last played an FC match in December 2019. Yuzvendra Chahal? December 2018. Rohit? 2016. Hardik Pandya? 2018. The Ranji Trophy continues to churn out quality players without the presence of the above-mentioned international cricketers.

How can players benefit if they go out? Alex Hales, who destroyed India's spinners on Thursday (38 from 22), made it a habit of playing franchise T20 cricket in Bangladesh for a number of years. When you can hit spin in Bangladesh, you generally feel invincible against spin anywhere else. Hales is also a regular in the BBL and it showed in his last three innings.

Coming to Dravid's next point that these leagues happen during India's domestic season. That is patently not true. Both the Blast (England's franchise league) and the Caribbean Premier League usually take place in the off-season. What stops the decision-makers from giving the license to the likes of Samson, Chahal, Hooda and so on — the players next off the rank — to put themselves in the shop window to play in overseas leagues when it's not clashing? The other issue here at play is it's not like BCCI has a total ban. Heck, this year the likes of Shubman Gill and Mohammed Siraj (both of them very much in the red-ball scheme of things as well) played for English county sides during the Duleep Trophy. If the BCCI can give permission for that, why are they averse to allowing white-ball specialists to pick up gigs elsewhere? Only the BCCI can say why. From the available evidence, they are loath to even see players in other leagues without their permission. In 2019, BCCI sent a show cause notice to Dinesh Karthik because he was in person for a CPL game at the request of Brendon McCullum, who was KKR's new coach. That this constituted a violation of a clause in Karthik's contract is laughable to say the least.

Dravid's West Indies theory, also doesn't pass the smell test. One of the earliest crises began in 2011 when, following a dispute between the board and senior players, Chris Gayle turned his back on West Indies to play for Bangalore in the IPL. This was before many of the T20 leagues came into being (to put it into perspective, CPL began in 2013). Also, it's counter-productive to cite a West Indies example. No side has benefited as much from franchise cricket as them. They have won the whole thing twice in the last decade.

India? The Indian Premier League may be the best T20 product out there but since its inception, India have picked zero T20 World Cups. Both Dravid and Rohit will agree on that point.

Lovlina, 3 others win top prize at Asian meet

ANMOL GURUNG @ Chennai

LOVLINA Borgohain is a household name in Indian boxing. A two-time World Championships bronze medallist, she propelled herself to a different league after her bronze medal return during the 2020 Olympics. She added yet another medal to her trophy cabinet on Friday by clinching the gold medal at the Asian Championships, one among four Indians to achieve the feat on the day.

This continental event — being held in Amman, Jordan — cannot be compared to the Olympics but this gold is a big boost for the Assam pugilist. After her preferred weight category (69kg) was dropped from the Olympic programme, there were concerns around the 25-year-old adjusting to the new weight category (75kg) as soon as possible.

Lovlina Borgohain (L) | ASBC

Also, after touching the highs in Tokyo, and with yet another gruelling schedule ahead, there were question marks if she could recalibrate and get back to business with the same zeal. The fact that she had quiet performances during the 2022 World Championships and Commonwealth Games didn't help.

The latest gold shows that her hunger for the sport remains intact and she means business. She will face stiffer tests, meet more diverse rivals in the months to come but her performance in the aforementioned event was an ideal start.

She was properly tested in the opening hurdle before going on to dismantle her remaining two opponents. Up against Ruzmetova Sokhiba of Uzbekistan in the final, Lovlina was dominant from the word go and rattled her opponent in the opening round with some neat blows. Her command was clear when the referee gave a standing count to Sokhiba. Lovlina never looked back and went on to win by a 5-0 verdict.

Bhaskar Bhatt, India women's chief coach, is encouraged by what he has seen. "She was mentally prepared for this. It was clear from her face that she was satisfied with her output. This is new to her (weight category), and she is still a work-in-progress but there are certainly a lot of positives. This is a step in the right direction," Bhatt, who was ringside, told this newspaper. Saweety Boora (81kg), Parveen (63kg) and Alfiya Pathan (+81kg) also enhanced their standing after winning gold medals. Minakshi (52kg), however, finish with a silver medal.

The Blues failed to score in their third consecutive game as the Red-and-Gold secured their first clean sheet of the season. The Blues saw quite a few players recover from injuries during the extended break as Simon Grayson made three changes. The win help East Bengal leapfrog Bengaluru FC and move into eighth place.

CATCH-UP ZONE

With the World Cup set to begin in Qatar from next Sunday, the paper begins its countdown of the quadrennial bash. Here's a brief look at Groups A and B.

GROUP A

Ecuador

FIFA ranking 44th

Best World Cup performance: Last 16 in 2006

Other notable performances: Fourth place at the Copa America in 1959 and 1993

How they qualified: Ecuador finished fourth in the single South American qualifying group to take the final automatic qualifying spot.

Key player: Enner Valencia, who this month turns 33, is Ecuador's captain and all-time top scorer with 35 goals. He is also a veteran of previous major tournaments, notably scoring all three of his country's goals at the 2014 World Cup in Brazil and appearing at four different editions of the Copa America. 'Superman' initially made his name at Emelec but later spent three years in the Premier League, first with West Ham United and then at Everton.

Senegal

FIFA ranking 18th

Best World Cup performance: Quarter-finalists in 2002

Other honours: African champions in 2022

How they qualified: beat Egypt in a play-off

Key player: Captain Kalidou Koulibaly was born in France, but opted to represent the country where his parents were born. The 31-year-old centre-back played for French and Belgian outfits before beginning an eight-year stay with Napoli in 2014. He moved to Chelsea this year and teamed up with Senegal goalkeeper Edouard Mendy. Koulibaly has been critical of African teams at the World Cup, saying they set their goals too low.

Netherlands

FIFA ranking 8th

Best World Cup performance: Runners-up in 1974, 1978, 2010

Other honours: European champions in 1988

How they qualified: Finished first in European qualifying Group G

Key player: Frenkie de Jong burst onto the scene in the 2018-19 season as part of another talented young Ajax team that was seconds from reaching that year's Champions League final. His eye-catching performances earned him a move to Barcelona as the Spanish giants fought off a host of Europe's top clubs for his signature. De Jong's creativity and versatility have turned him into an indispensable part of a resurgent Dutch side.

GROUP B

USA

FIFA ranking 16th

Best World Cup performance: Third place in 1930

Other honours: CONCACAF Championship/ Gold Cup winners in 1991, 2002, 2005, 2007, 2013, 2017, 2021; CONCACAF Nations League winners in 2019-20

How they qualified: The United States finished third in the CONCACAF zone final qualifying standings, behind Canada and Mexico

Key player: If the US upset the odds and progress beyond the group stage in Qatar, the chances are that Christian Pulisic will have had a lot to do with it. The 24-year-old Chelsea star has consistently been the Americans' most important player in recent years, one of the few individuals capable of producing game-changing moments on the biggest stage. The man known as "Captain America" was a crucial contributor during the US qualification campaign, which included a hat-trick against Panama in March.

Wales

FIFA ranking 19th

Best World Cup performance: Quarter-finals in 1958

Other notable performances: European Championship semi-finalists in 2016

How they qualified: Beat Ukraine 1-0 in playoff final

Key player: Gareth Bale has the crowning glory he craved on an impressive CV for club and country by finally making it to the World Cup. Now playing his club football in MLS with LAFC, Bale remains the talisman for his nation. The five-time Champions League winner followed up scoring twice in a 2-1 win over Austria in the playoff semi-finals with the only goal against Ukraine to send Wales to Qatar. At 33, there are rumours the former Real Madrid forward may even bow out from international football after the tournament.

Iran

FIFA ranking 20th

Best World Cup performance: First round in five previous appearances

Other honours: Asian Cup winners in 1968, 1972, 1976

How they qualified: Iran topped Asian Group A in third round

Key player: The passion of Bayer Leverkusen forward Sardar Azmoun for goals is matched only by his love of horses. When he is not scoring for club or country, the 27-year-old is involved in his horse racing and breeding complex in the northern town where he was born. Often called the Messi of Iran, he averages two goals from every three appearances for the national team. Azmoun played for three Russian clubs before moving to Germany this year and is renowned for his acceleration, innovation and aerial power. Some Iranians have given Azmoun the ultimate compliment -- comparing him to the legendary Ali Daei.

England

FIFA ranking 5th

Best World Cup performance: Winners in 1966

How they qualified: England finished first in European qualifying Group I

Key player: Harry Kane could become England's all-time leading scorer at the World Cup after reaching 51 goals for the Three Lions -- just two behind record holder Wayne Rooney. The Tottenham Hotspur star has never won a major trophy with club or country but his predatory instincts make him one of the world's top strikers. Keeping Kane fit and firing will be Southgate's top priority in Qatar.

Qatar

FIFA ranking 50th

Best World Cup performance: Debut

Other honours: Asian Cup winners 2019

How they qualified: Automatic qualification as hosts

Key player: Qatar are counting on Akram Afif for the goals needed to get the victories required in the group. Afif, who will be 26 two days before the November 20 start of the World Cup, was born in Doha to a Tanzanian footballer father and Yemeni mother. He played for the Qatari-owned Eupen team in Belgium as well as Sporting Gijon in Spain before joining Al-Sadd, who were Qatari champions in 2021 and 2022.

IOA election process on after SGM

INDRANEEL DAS @ Chennai

THE amended Indian Olympic Association constitution was adopted on Thursday during the Special General Meeting. There were objections raised but the constitution was ratified and adopted and there were no changes added or deleted as of now. Election process has started and as far as the one-member committee of retired judge L Nageswara Rao's amended constitution is concerned, it is in force.

The notice for IOA Annual General Meeting and elections on December 10 too was issued late on Friday. Secretary General Rajiv Mehta sent the notice to the member of International Olympic Committee, affiliated members and the Athletes Commission. According to the amended constitution affiliated members should constitute two representatives, provided one is female and one male, of the National Sports Federations part of the Olympic, Asian and Commonwealth Games programmes. The two-point agenda includes "formal ratification of incorporating Sportspersons on Outstanding Merit into the General Assembly and election of executive committee of the IOA for the term 2022-2026". And any other items.

The IOA had approached the court on Friday and sought urgent hearing on the objections raised during the SGM, but in a big setback, the court said it will be heard on the date decided earlier on December 7.

Such was the lack of understanding among factions that on Friday morning there were two sets of minutes of the meeting in circulation. One was signed by Mehta (later apparently it was withdrawn) and another by Rakesh Gupta, who said in the minutes that he was the official minutes keeper as mandated by the majority of the house.

BRUSH WITH REALITY

City-based artist Shilo Shiv Suleman is in Egypt for COP27, where she is painting a 60-foot mural to highlight the points of view of indigenous communities

DESE GOWDA

OVER the last decade, award-winning artist Shilo Shiv Suleman has been highlighting gender issues with her artworks. Through Fearless Collective, the organisation she founded following the 2012 Nirbhaya case, Suleman has made it her mission to bring about social change through art and culture.

Now, the Bengaluru-based artist is in Egypt this week for the COP27 climate conference, where she is painting a mural at the blue zone, where leaders from across the globe have gathered to discuss averting the ongoing climate crisis. The ever-worsening climate crisis needs to be addressed with concrete action. And Suleman hopes that art can play a role in this conversation.

"We are working with a community of indigenous voices with people from across the globe trying to bring their perspective into the climate negotiations that are happening in the blue zone at COP27," she says. Earlier this week, Swedish climate activist Greta Thunberg labelled COP27 a 'forum for greenwashing' and said she would boycott the event. Agreeing with Thunberg's assessment of the conference, Suleman opens up about her own 'appalling' experience at last year's event, where she felt like a 'brown token'. "Last time I thought we were coming from a space of care, but in reality, it felt like a trade show. A lot of white people were throwing money around. There were transactions happening on one side, while protests on the other," she shares. "Our goal was to try and shift the conversation from negotiations and protests to reverence and care for the natural world with a 60-foot mural on the street of indigenous sovereignty. But I felt like I was a brown token on stage for most of the conference."

Despite her frustrating experience in Glasgow, Suleman decided to attend this year's event anyway given its immense influence on policies that world governments undertake. "We want to turn up at the frontline no matter what, because these are spaces of power where major decisions are made. As difficult as it is, it's important for us to bring voices of indigenous communities to approach this crisis."

To achieve a sustainable future, she feels world leaders need to view the planet as one, forgetting national and economic borders. "The devastating floods that Pakistan endured recently wasn't because of its own emissions, but because of historical emissions from the global north. So essentially, we have not led the consumption patterns, nor have we led the emissions. And yet, the people who are actually most affected by it, are those who are most disenfranchised. It doesn't matter where you are in the world, we're all going to suffer the repercussions of each other's behaviour," she explains, adding that countries in the global north should take accountability for their reckless industrialisation and consider ways to repatriate nations most affected by the crisis currently.

Although disappointed that India is not in the finals, some B'lureans are travelling to Melbourne to watch the T20 World Cup finals on Sunday

OZ CALLING

RAIN, RAIN, GO AWAY!

England and Pakistan could share the T20 World Cup trophy as rain threatens to play spoilsport in the summit clash on Sunday as well as the reserve day at the MCG. Currently, there is a 95 per cent chance of rain in Melbourne on Sunday, with up to 25mm predicted to fall. "Very high (near 100%) chance of showers. The chance of a thunderstorm, possibly severe, with heavy falls possible," a report in ESPNCricinfo quoted the Bureau of Meteorology as saying. Tournament rules for the final state that at least 10 overs a side are needed to constitute a knockout stage match. If rain prevents play on both days then England and Pakistan will be forced to share the trophy. "The first priority will be to complete a shortened match on Sunday if required, meaning the overs will be reduced before the reserve day is activated," the report said. - PTI

Indian fans cheer during the T20 World Cup cricket match against Zimbabwe at MCG. | AFP

MONIKA MONALISA

NIVEDITH Gajapathy was ready to fly to Melbourne to watch the finals of the T20 match. But that was until India got out of the tournament after getting beaten by England in the semi-finals. The travel blogger had been planning this day for more than a month and was hoping to see India and Pakistan battling it out at the Melbourne Cricket Ground (MCG) again.

He had initially wanted to go for the group match of Indo-Pak, which ended with India's win, but could not make it. Gajapathy will now cheer for England in the finals. "Before the semis, when it looked like India would be in the finals, the ticket prices (150A$) on the black market shot up like crazy but I didn't want to give up my tickets," says Gajapathy.

Similar for Gurukiran Shetty as well. Shetty, a well-known Sandalwood singer, was thrilled to be in Melbourne to witness the match live but is quite sad about India not making it to the top. "Next week I have a performance in Melbourne. I advanced my trip so I could watch the finals live," says Shetty, speaking to CE from Melbourne. Though he confesses not to be a huge cricket fan, he wanted to witness the spectacle of a live match from the stadium. "I am not an ardent follower of sports but I know the craze behind it. It is a historically-significant match, so it would be fun for sure," says Shetty, who is going to be accompanied by his wife.

Gurukiran and his wife in the flight to Melbourne

Even many who are settled in Melbourne say that India's exit from the tournament was not just disheartening for Indians but for Australians too. Nishakanth, who originally hails from Mangaluru and currently lives in Melbourne, says, "Of course, as Indians, we wanted to see India in the finals and here on every radio station they were all rooting for the India-Pakistan match," says the businessman.

Just like any Indian, it is a tough choice for Nishikanth to choose who he is cheering for. "I am probably not going to cheer for any team for all the emotional reasons," laughs Nishkanth, further adding, "Just watching the match at MCG is a treat in itself."

O raises the horror bar...a bit

A SHARADHAA

AMONG the innumerable commercial potboilers that come in Sandalwood, once in a while, we get a film that hits us out of nowhere, and makes her hearts pound. Debutant filmmaker Mahesha C Ammalidoddy's O is one such film, which was waiting for a release for four years now, and finally found its way this Friday.

O revolves around a beautiful triangular love story of step-sisters Nikitha (Milana Nagaraj) and Nisha (Amrutha Iyengar), who are both in love with their college mate, Chetu (Siddu Moolimani). This triangle love story gets even more convoluted when Nisha, who is addicted to reading horror novels manages to get her hand on an occult book. A series of horrific events ensue, and the work of a wicked mind puts the characters through suffering till the final act which culminates in the promise of a potential sequel.

O

Director: Mahesha C Ammalidoddy
Cast: Milana Nagaraj, Amrutha Iyengar, and Siddhu Moolimani

RATING 2.5/5

The way O unfolds, it is no wonder that romance and horror make for a perfect mix, and, in turn, become a quality cinematic watch. Although the narrative has the potential to eat away logic, O induces horror in the right dosage and under the right circumstances.

Banker-turned-film-maker Mahesha Ammalidoddy visits familiar territories that we expect from this genre, but his style of filmmaking stands out, as he uses very minimal characters to give us a film with adequate twists and turns. He manages to keep the audience engaged with his narration, without giving up the suspense. While O deals into a concept that has a deep history, certain episodes make one wonder if such evil and spiritual practices still exist.

Both Milana and Amrutha get to experiment with fresh characterisations and give strong performances. Siddu Moolimani, Suchendra Prasad, Vinay Krishnaswamy, Sangeetha and child artist Alaap add strength to the film. The visual effects by Nagesh and background music by Sathish Babu boost the film's aesthetics.

O is a novel attempt that does leave a few aspects unanswered, but if you are a fan of the horror and suspense genre, this one is perfect for you.

VETERAN ACTOR SATHYAJEET TO MAKE DIRECTORIAL DEBUT WITH BULLET

The film stars Dharma Keethiraj, Shreya Shukla and Ajita Jha

Shreya Shukla

CE FEATURES

SATHYAJEET, who has acted in over 50 films, which includes Tamil and Hindi, is now marking his directorial debut with the Kannada film, Bullet.

Starring Navagraha actor Dharma Keerthiraj, the film also stars Shreya Shukla, and Ajita Jha who are working in Kannada for the first time. Speaking to CE on the sidelines of the film's muharath, which took place recently, Sathyajeet recalls his stint in acting, especially the time he worked with Sridevi, Rajinikanth, and Kamal Haasan in Bharathiraja's 16 Vayathiniley. He also mentions working with Sunny Deol in Rajkumar Santhoshi's Ghayal. "Having done my film course at Adyar film and Television institute, I immediately got into acting. However, I also had the passion to direct, which finally comes through Bullet," says Satyajeet.

The film is billed as an action drama, which also highlights father-son sentiment. Sathyajeet, who penned the story, and the screenplay will also be producing the film and playing a crucial role.

The cast consists of Ishaq Kazi, Amjad Qureshi, Bhavya, Radha Ramchandra, and others.

With music by Raj Bhaskar, Bullet has cinematography by National award-winner PVR Swamy. "We are planning to begin shooting in the next few days, and will be filming across Bengaluru, Goa, and parts of Mangaluru," says Sathyajeet.

A wholesome family entertainer with a strong emotional core

RATING 2.5/5

DILPASAND

Director: Shiva Tejas
Cast: Krishna, Megha Shetty, Nishvika, and Sadhu Kokila

A SHARADHAA

BY now we are aware that Krishna prefers to star in feel-good, realistic, and romantic family entertainers. What began with the Love Mocktail series, has continued through his filmography, and now we have DilPasand.

From the rushes of this Shiva Tejas directorial, we understood that the film is a love story that revolves around the protagonist's struggle between two women, marriage, and the bonding with his parents.

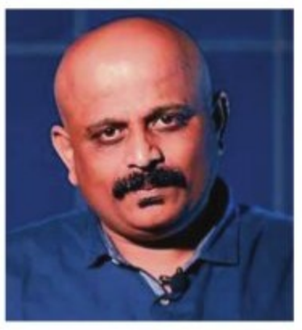
The final result on screen is indeed a cheerful movie, which is charmingly witty, bitter-sweet, and has a firm grip on reality.

Santhosh (Krishna) is a happy-go-lucky person and is all set to marry the girl of his parent's choice, Minchu (Megha Shetty). However, Santhosh accidentally meets Aishwarya (Nishvika), and this changes the course of his life. Caught between Minchu and Aishwarya, the turmoil in his life is what keeps the curiosity factor high, and makes DilPasand an engaging watch.

DilPasand tries to explain the psyche of the youth for marriage with jocoserious situations sprinkled amply. The makers weave in a convincing narrative including elements like comedy, romance, sentiments, and family bonding.

Making relatable romance films have always been Krishna's forte, and in Dilpasand, he has handled the role of a confused lover boy in a graceful and stylish manner. He scores high in the emotional moments too. While this is Meghana's first onscreen outing, the director has given an interesting character sketch for her, which allows her the scope for performance. She does have a long way to go. Nishvika as a bold girl with a past is the highlight of DilPasand. The first-of-its-kind character for her, Nishvika aces the role and elevates the film with her performance.

Actors like Sadhu Kokila, Giri Shivanna, and a gang of friends bring relief with laughter. Rangayana Raghu in a father's role wins the audience's heart with an applaudable performance. Aruna Balraj, Tabla Nani, Chitkala Biradar, and Cockroach Sudhi handle their roles smartly. Ajay Rao in a guest appearance is another highlight of the film.



While it is a familiar formula, Shiva Tejas makes it relatable enough for the audience, especially the youth who are ready for marriage. There is a certain drag in the second half, but the right casting and the experience of the cast and crew gloss over these flaws.

If you are looking for a wholesome family entertainer, which hits the right kind of emotional notes, then head out for Dilpasand.
